

REVENGE MOTIVE FOR MURDER OF RUSS DELEGATE

Swiss Empties Revolver at Trio of Soviet Representatives at Lausanne

SEE COMPLICATIONS

International Troubles May Follow—Murderer Is Held by Police

Lausanne, Switzerland, May 11.—M. Vorovsky, head of the soviet delegation now in Lausanne; Secretary Ahrens of the same delegation, and M. Dirlikowski, another Russian, were shot while dining at the Hotel Cecil. Vorovsky was almost instantly killed and the others seriously injured.

Vorovsky, accompanied by the other members of the delegation, were at dinner when a man at a neighboring table, said to be a Swiss fascist, rose and fired 10 shots. Vorovsky fell dead, Ahrens was hit twice in the leg, and Dirlikowski was critically shot in the body.

The murderer having emptied his revolver, turned to the horror-stricken guests, who had risen in alarm, and said: "Call the police. I have no regrets for what I have done."

The police refuse to disclose the identity of the assassin, but it is stated by others that his name is Conrad, that he came from Zurich, and that he was formerly a captain in the Russian imperial army.

Ahrens described the shooting, saying: "When we sat down to dinner we noticed an elegantly dressed young man at a table near us. He was drinking cognac continuously, and when he got up I saw the muzzle of his revolver pointed at Vorovsky's back. He pulled the trigger and Vorovsky was killed instantly. I was shot in the leg and when I reached for my revolver I fainted and fell over Vorovsky's body."

Eye-witnesses declare that after the shooting Conrad walked calmly to the hotel corridor smoking a cigarette. There he asked if Vorovsky was dead and when told that he was he said: "I have avenged my father and uncle." In a statement to the press Ahrens said: "I will formally accuse the Swiss government of being an accomplice in this murder, because no precautions were taken to safeguard the soviet delegates. I accuse the secretariat of the conference of doing everything in his power to render the situation of the Russian delegates difficult. It is the duty of my government to decide what to do to avenge the cowardly murder of my chief."

International complications are foreseen as a result of the assassination of Vorovsky. Already it is being likened to the Sarajevo murders, which set Europe ablaze in 1914. Ahrens refused to allow the Swiss government to take charge of the body of Vorovsky, and is holding the body to await the arrival of a Russian doctor from Geneva.

The slain delegate was an engineer and former Bolshevik agent at Stockholm.

Conrad returned from Russia two months ago. He is said to have written in a letter that he wanted to kill Vorovsky because his father and uncle had died of hunger and torture. He fought against Germany until 1917. He had no accomplices.

"My only hope is that I have an opportunity to get George Tchitcherine also."

This declaration was made here today by Alexander Conrad, a Swiss, who shot and killed M. Vorovsky, Russian observer at the Near East peace conference, in the dining room at the Hotel Cecil last night.

Conrad paced restlessly up and down his cell as he talked. He spent a sleepless night, rolling about on his prison cot and frequently rising to walk up and down his cell. "He is really dead, isn't he?" exclaimed the prisoner, referring to Vorovsky. "I was sure he was dead when I saw him fall. How the Russians tortured my father and my uncle. It was vengeance. They had it coming to them. I want to get Tchitcherine before I die."

RELEASE OF AMERICAN PRISONERS BY CHINESE BANDITS PREDICTED

Think Foreigners Will Be Permitted to Go Within 24 Hours—Peaceful Negotiations Are Resumed
In Peking.

Washington, May 11.—The death of only one of the foreigners held captive by the Suchoo bandits may lead to international complications, according to a warning served upon authorities in Nanking, by Jacob Gould Schurman, the American minister to China, the state department announced today.

Schurman advised Secretary of State Hughes that he had told Governor Chi, the chief official in Nanking that the time was now the most important element in the situation and that the immediate release of the captives was essential to avoid possible death and resulting trouble between the Peking government and other powers.

AMERICANS HELD BY CHINESE THUGS

Major Robert A. Allen, of the Medical Corps, U. S. A., and J. P. Powell, correspondent for a Chicago newspaper and editor of the Far East Review, of Shanghai, were among the eight Americans captured by Chinese bandits, near Tien-Tsin, and held for ransom.

DOPE FOUND; ARRESTS MADE

Akron, O., May 11.—A boy of eight years, two women and 14 men were arrested by federal agents and local police. The boy is said to be the youngest person engaged in narcotic traffic ever arrested. The officers were about to depart from the residence of Fred Martino, 30, after failing to find any evidence, when Peter Martino's 8-year-old son, revealed the hiding place of a can of morphine and cocaine. Peter is said to have carried "dope" from his home to his father's soft drink saloon.

Peking, May 11.—Release of the several Americans and other foreigners held by the Shanghai train bandits within 24 hours, was predicted in advices received here today.

The advices from Lincheng said peaceful negotiations were again proceeding after an apparent deadlock, with the two great war lords of China—Tsoo-Kun and Chang Tso-Lin—taking an active part.

The diplomatic body, including representatives of all foreign powers was to meet this afternoon for decision on joint action in the kidnapping of many Americans and other foreigners by the Shanghai-Peking express train bandits.

The meeting was called following reports that negotiations between the bandits and representatives of the Peking government were at a standstill. The political aspect of the kidnappings which has come to the forefront in the recent negotiations has somewhat changed the situation.

All responsibility now rests with the Chinese investigating commission sent to Lin-Cheng at the request of the dean of the diplomatic corps.

The diplomatic body, it was stated prior to the session, is resolved for the present not to address Marshal Tsoo-Kun directly. He is the military power in the district affected and some observers have professed to believe that his agents are responsible for the bandit operations.

The consular body at Lin Cheng, now including American, French, Italian and British representatives have received precise order not to take up direct relations, and negotiations with the brigands.

All negotiations are in the hands of the Chinese commission. This means a certain deadlock, it is believed here as the brigands, up until now, have refused negotiations with the Chinese government commission, suspecting the Chinese of treachery. The bandits wanted guarantees from the foreigners, especially the consuls and the diplomatic body which can never be given.

As a result, expiration of the ultimatum delivered the Chinese government by the diplomatic body which called for the release of the prisoners by midnight May 12 is tensely awaited.

The Catholic missionary at Lin-Cheng after interviewing the bandit chieftain, reported his attitude to the foreign consuls on the ground. One of the consuls wiring the missionary's report to Peking stated the brigands demanded withdrawal of the troops before opening negotiations for the release of prisoners. He said they are unwilling to mediate through military authorities, desiring instead direct communication with the American and European consuls regarding terms. The missionary said the bandit leader was emphatic in declaring he would not deal with Peking.

The bandit leader told the missionary the prisoners were well and living in huts in the hills north of Y-Huien and Tung-Chiang.

Offers of foodstuffs and clothes for the captives were refused by the brigands who were said to number 900.

PAINFULLY INJURED IN XENIA ACCIDENT

William Hardyshell, a laborer of Urbana, but who boards on West Main Street, this city, received severe bruises and was knocked unconscious for some time, but not seriously injured, in an accident at the log yard on Bellbrook avenue, Thursday morning. The accident happened when Hardyshell was loading logs into a car on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, when a switch engine struck the car, and knocked the pulley pole into the car, where Hardyshell was standing.

The long pole knocked down telephone wires over the car, which came into contact, with a chain Hardyshell was holding. The shock passed through the workman's body, and he lost consciousness. The falling pole struck him in the face, and caused painful bruises. The injured man was removed to the office of Dr. W. A. Galloway, where his injuries were dressed. He was able to leave the doctor's office, Thursday afternoon.

ESCAPES DEATH IN LEAP

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 11.—Weary of the light to live with her meager wages in a shirt factory, and lonely as well, pretty Fannie Smith, 21 years old, leaped last night from the high bridge linking Cincinnati and Newport, Ky.

Miss Smith, whose home is 521 East Thirteenth Street, survived the 125 foot dive into the cold Ohio, escaping with only a few bruises received when her body struck the river.

LABOR LEADER INDICTED

Marion, O., May 11.—James Steele, charged with circulating false rumors which caused a run on the Marion Savings bank, was indicted by the grand jury. Steele, a labor leader, will be arraigned tomorrow.

SEVEN AMERICAN DESTROYERS SENT TO SHANTUNG PORT

Washington, May 11.—Seven American destroyers have been ordered from Shanghai and Kobe to Tsingtao, one of the principal ports of Shantung province, it was announced by the navy department. They will hold themselves in readiness for emergency use if the occasion requires.

War department officials stated that, while no orders for troop movements have been issued, 10,000 troops in the Philippines are in such a state of readiness that they could be embarked for China within 48 hours from the receipt of orders.

The United States does not contemplate armed action in China while the Americans now in the hands of Chinese bandits are still held captive. A high administration official explained that whatever steps of that nature may ultimately be decided upon they probably will be held in abeyance until the American prisoners are released. Their lives might be endangered by hasty and premature action, it was stated.

Many high officials here take the view that once the present crisis is passed the Chinese government might secretly welcome foreign intervention. Government of China by an international commission for five years or so would not only result in the restoration of order and the cessation of bandit raids, but in the curbing of the power of the Tsuchuns, or military governors of the provinces, and in the stabilization of Chinese finances, officials say.

State department officials stated that Minister Jacob Gould Schurman has informed the Chinese foreign office that the United States cares nothing as to the methods pursued in obtaining the release of the American prisoners, but wants results. Minister Schurman, it was explained, declined to assume the responsibility of asking the Chinese to act along definite lines.

Ambassador Geddes has conferred several times recently with Secretary Hughes on the Chinese situation. They are understood to have reached a complete accord as to the policy to be pursued in the present crisis by the United States and Great Britain.

Washington, May 11.—China's regret over the Shantung train outrage will be formally communicated to President Harding late this afternoon by Dr. Alfred Sze, the Chinese minister.

Minister Sze requested an hour's conference with the president today, and it was arranged. He will go to the White House at three p. m.

The United States is going to have an early showdown with China, as to whether those now in authority in Peking intend to live up to the agreements at the Washington arms conference.

This statement was made in official quarters today while Washington expectedly awaited news of the release of the Americans and other foreigners carried off and plundered by the Shantung bandits.

The wobbly government at Peking has broken definitely, two of the pledges made at Washington, according to the American viewpoint, which already has been presented with some vigor to the Peking government.

Oddly enough, it is America, "the great good friend of China," that has suffered most in both instances.

Chinese two plain violations of her treaty agreements here are: 1.—Failure to protect the persons and properties of foreign residents as shown in the Shantung affair, and 2.—Failure to equal economic opportunity for all nations as exemplified in Peking's refusal thus far to go through with the Federal Telegraph Company's contract for the erection of five wireless stations.

Of the two, the American government considers the second violation the most serious and it is upon this that Washington is preparing for a showdown.

Minister Schurman has informed the Peking government that the United States considers execution of the Federal Wireless contract, held by Pacific coast interests to be the crucial test of the open door policy.

EASTERN COUNTIES ARE RECOGNIZED

Columbus, O., May 11.—George W. Roche, Steubenville, has been appointed as an inspector in the automobile division effective July 1, Secretary of State Thad H. Brown announced today. Roche was formerly an oil inspector in the Department of Commerce under former Governor Davis. He is a member of the Jefferson County Republican Executive Committee.

Secretary Brown has adopted the policy of recognizing the Eastern Ohio counties, which are Republican. This is evidenced by his recent appointment of William V. Bennett, Belmont County, as corporation adviser and Mahoning County having been given the appointment of Mr. George D. Gessman, as chief clerk in the automobile division. Mr. Brown announced that another inspector in the automobile division will be appointed from Trembly County.

POLICEMAN KIDNAPED BY MAN HE ARRESTED

Believe Cleveland Patrolman Victim of Band of Thugs and Spirited Away While Taking Prisoner To Jail.

Cleveland, May 11.—A police squad, armed with riot guns was searching today for Patrolman Dennis Griffin, who was believed by police to have been kidnaped by a prisoner he was taking to police station earlier in the day.

Griffin had been sent to a garage in the East End to arrest a man suspected of stealing an automobile. Another patrolman had been keeping an all night vigil, awaiting the return of the suspect. Griffin reached the garage at 6:30 shortly afterward the suspect drove in and was placed under arrest.

Griffin jumped in the car with his prisoner to take him to the Fourteenth Precinct station, to which he was assigned. When he failed to arrive with his prisoner and more than an hour had elapsed, a general alarm was sent out over the city and shortly after nine o'clock today, Chief of Police Jacob W. Graub, took personal charge of the search for the missing patrolman.

Police believe that the man arrested was one of a band of five robbers, who earlier in the day had held up and robbed four persons and secured money and jewelry valued at $3,200.

That the bandit under arrest may have been joined by some of his companions, the patrolman overpowered and gaged and driven to a lonely spot was thought possible by officials.

MINING TOWN IS AGAIN CENTER OF BIG COAL FIGHT

Pomeroy, Ohio, Scene of Grand Jury Investigation of Death

Pomeroy O., May 11.—With this little town as the battle ground of the warfare which has waged for many years between union coal miners and coal operators in the West Virginia fields was being fought over again today.

The grand jury probing the killing of J. W. Swanner and Edward Reynolds shot to death Wednesday at the home of James W. Miller, union miners, is due to report sometime today. An indictment, charging first degree murder is expected to be voted against Miller who admits the killing but declares it was done to prevent his kidnaping into West Virginia.

Representing the United Mine Workers of America here are W. M. Petry, vice president of District 17, and F. L. Bellard, from international headquarters. Representing the prosecution and the coal operators is C. M. Belcher, of Charleston, identified with the states cases against Kenney Mooney and other union leaders.

Taylor, vice chairman of the legion's legislative committee. As a result of the elections last fall the senate stands 70 to 26 on the question, he said. This is 18 votes more than the two-thirds necessary in case the president should again refuse to accept the judgment of congress.

The sixth child in the Fischer family, Marie, 14, was not in the machine.

Misinterpretation of a signal from the crossing watchman is believed to have led to the accident. Fischer regained consciousness long enough to say that the man on duty had given an "all clear" signal.

UTILIZE RADIO AS PROTECTION IN EMERGENCIES

Hoover Announces Regulations Covering Broadcasting Stations

CONTINUOUS WATCH

Land Radio to Play Role
On Land as it Does
On Sea.

Washington, May 11.—Looking to protection of every locality of the U. S. in cases of storms, floods or other grave emergencies, Secretary of Commerce Hoover announced today radio regulations which provide that one or more operators must be on duty at all hours in broadcasting stations holding commercial first class licenses.

Continuous watch must be maintained and operators are required to render any assistance possible in emergencies, supplementing existing public communication facilities that may be temporarily interrupted.

Under this regulation, land radio assumes the same importance in the protection of life and property as does wireless on the high seas.

The radio, officials said, has passed from the experimental and "jazzmania" stage to that of a great public institution.

Stations failing to meet the new requirements will suffer loss of licenses. All recommendations adopted by the second national radio conference have been incorporated into regulation by Secretary Hoover, acting under the flexible provisions of the radio act of 1922.

Violations of the law have been reported from west, south and east coast points where broadcasting stations are alleged to be using more power than is necessary in carrying out communications. Only in case of signals or radiograms relating to vessels in distress is unlimited power permitted. Fines up to $100 and loss of license are provided as penalties.

The new wave lengths adopted by the radio conference will go into effect at noon, May 15. Warning was issued today that the new wave lengths must not be used for broadcasting prior to that date. Radio inspectors will notify owners of all licenses class B stations of the wave lengths assigned for their locality.

Beginning May 15, the inspectors in each district will check the transmitting wave lengths of stations by personal inspections and by listening in with accurate calibrated receivers.

RAIL COMMISSION DEADLOCKED OVER SENIORITY ISSUES

Little Chance Seen for Settlement of Dispute Caused By Strike

Chicago, May 11.—The Baltimore Agreement Commission created in September, 1922, when a number of railroads settled the shopcrafts strike on a basis worked out by Beet M. Jewell, head of the shopcrafts, and Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and to which commission was left the settlement of the seniority dispute is hopelessly deadlocked over the settlement, Chairman Ben W. Hooper of the United States railroad labor board told International News Service today.

Chairman Hooper in receipt of an article from the pen of Edward Tegtmeyer, general vice president of the Boilemakers, one of the six shopcrafts, admitting the deadlock, rumors of which have been floating in railroad circles for several weeks.

Under the Baltimore plan on the basis of which a number of roads entered into separate settlements of the strike, the striking shopmen returned to work with the tacit agreement that while their seniority would rank second to the employees who did not strike or who entered the employ of the roads during the strike, the seniority dispute would be settled by a representative body composed of an equal number of employees and railroad executives. This body was to be known as the Baltimore agreement commission.

GRAVES CAMPAIGN WILL COME TO END SATURDAY NIGHT

Graves of almost 32,100 Americans, who gave their lives during the World War and are buried in France, will be annually decorated on each succeeding Memorial Day, if the Graves Endowment Fund of $100,000 supported by the American Legion, is a success.

Each Legion Post in the country has been asked to assist in the effort to raise the $100,000 necessary to supply the annual tribute which the National Executive Committee has pledged. Two francs, fifty centimes will decorate one grave once a year. The income from a million francs will decorate about 15,000 graves once a year forever.

With the income from a million francs already being used and from private subscriptions, the Legion hopes to be able to decorate all graves annually. The campaign now being conducted will obviate the necessity of future campaigns, and insure the Legion's tribute to memory to each grave for all time.

There are 31,400 American soldiers buried in France and Belgium; England has 488; Scotland 140; Ireland 40, and Spain 4. The Legion has pledged itself to raise the amount necessary through all Posts before May 30, and the local campaign is a unit in the national drive to fulfill this pledge.

Boxes have been placed in banks and business houses by the committee of Joseph P. Foody Post, in charge of the campaign and contribution can be received there. Saturday afternoon and evening poppies will be sold by Girl Scouts in the afternoon and by Legionnaires in the evening. Poppies will be used Memorial Day and these poppies may be saved until that time.

Legion members are asked to cooperate with the committee by being present at Post Headquarters Saturday evening at seven o'clock.

HONOLULU POST OFFICE BOXES TOO HIGH FOR JAP CITIZENS

Honolulu, April 10.—Honolulu alhoorBA-M etaoin hrdl etaol hrdr apapense population has a new grievance. They don't like the magnificent new post office, probably the only "outdoor" post office in the world.

They don't like the building because they can't reach the boxes, which, they complain, are built too high for people of short stature. If a box above the first two tiers is given them they cannot reach their mail.

"Many Japanese have complained to me about the height of the boxes," said Postmaster MacAdam, who, although he didn't draw the plans for the building and isn't responsible for the inconvenient height of some of the boxes for short people, is the goat.

The new post office, opposite the Capitol, is a beautiful white building set back from the street.

Most of the business with the public is transacted practically in the open, for the mail boxes and windows for stamps, parcel post, general delivery, etc., face on a wide-open portico. The columns and arches of the portico give the building an architectural finish of real beauty.

The wise ones are suggesting to the harassed postmaster that he lay in a supply of small folding ladders and rent them out at a small fee to short boxholders.

EAST END NEWS

William Lawson, died Friday morning at his home in Yellow Springs, after an illness of the past week or ten days following a stroke of paralysis. Mr. Lawson formerly was employed in Dayton, as janitor of a large business building but returned to his home in Yellow Springs three years ago on account of ill health. He is survived by his wife.

Frank Edgingfield, Jamestown pike, appealed to Sheriff Morris Sharp Friday to be relieved of a relic.

The relic is a Hudson touring car of ancient but honorable vintage, which a passing motorist wished on Edgingfield last October and which he has since been unable to get rid of. The motorist left it there when one of the tires blew out. December 6 he was back and said he would return in several days for the car. He never came back nor did he leave his name or address.

Edgingfield says the machine is in the way and he wants to get rid of it. Sheriff Sharp investigated in the belief the car might have been stolen originally. These doubts were dispelled by the ancient appearance of the car, which is a right hand drive.

TINKER SAYS HE COULD HARDLY DRESS HIMSELF

Rheumatism And Indigestion Robbed Him Of Strength, Declares Cleveland Citizen; Health Now Restored, He Praises Tanlac In Statement To Public.

"I'm all wrapped up in the subject of Tanlac now, for by means of this treatment my recovery has been simple and inexpensive," states Alfred Tinker, retired moulder, living at 2809 Cedar St., Cleveland, Ohio.

"My stomach was so disordered that everything I ate made me miserable with indigestion, heartburn, bloating and shortness of breath. Nervousness, biliousness, headaches and backaches were among my ailments, and I had rheumatism all through my body so bad I could hardly dress myself. My troubles were certainly treating me rough, and nights sleep was just almost impossible.

"Well, sir, the Tanlac treatment has knocked my troubles a-kiting and has put me in such splendid condition that, despite my seventy years I can throw out my chest and step just as lively as I could at forty. When my friends comment on my new health I tell them straight from the shoulder that Tanlac is what put me on my feet."

RECOGNITION BOON IS MEXICO'S HOPE.

When the "Big Four" of the western hemisphere get together in the near future to discuss ways and means amicably to settle the differences between the United States and Mexico, which have prevented the latter from being recognized as possessing a defacto or regularly constituted form of government it will be a contest of wits between advocates and supporters of conservatism and propagandists of a new order of things.

To Americans in general, the outcome of the conferences is not likely to be of much import. To Mexico, its Government and its people, whether or not the mixed commission finally arrives at an equitable solution of the various issues at stake, depends in a measure its economic equilibrium. If the conferences are successful, Mexico may look forward to a period of comparative prosperity and peace; if a deadlock issues, and the American State Department continues its policy of "watchful waiting," inaugurated during the Administration of President Wilson, Mexico will be obliged again to take up the unequal struggle to maintain its economic independence. For it must be understood that Mexico's prosperity depends chiefly on the influx of foreign capital to develop its untold riches.

Money alone is not sufficient, as history has proved that the Mexican people have never been able to exploit advantageously its potential resources—it has always been the foreigner who has blazed the way, and got the "fat." The Mexicans have been obliged to be satisfied with the drippings. Recognizing this, the promulgators of the constitution of 1917 took care to see that Mexico's resources should be safeguarded in the future and that the Nation should receive a just compensation for extending the privilege to foreigners to make highly profitable investments.

The adoption, of a constitution which lent an entirely new interpretation to property rights and interests acquired met with little opposition in the country except by the clerical and conservative groups. Foreigners naturally protested when their properties acquired legally and lawfully under the old laws were suddenly declared property of the Nation and subject to confiscation or division. Hope was held for a long time, nevertheless, that conditions would be bettered as soon as Congress enacted organic laws to regulate the several objectionable articles in the constitution.

Congress never did enact any laws but the pro and con of the several sections of the famous Article 27 have been discussed repeatedly by the lower and upper houses without further action being taken. President Alvaro Obregon and the Department of Commerce have, therefore, been obliged to issue various decrees from time to time to regulate the petroleum industry and to curb the activities of too ardent supporters of the agrarian reform law. These two issues, the oil question, sub-soil rights, taxation, export duties and the subdivision of lands are the two big questions before the mixed commission.

ADMIRAL CHESTER KEPT STANDARD OIL OUT OF CONCESSION.

Capital for developing the so-called Chester concession in Turkey will be raised by popular subscription in the United States, and the first call will be for $1,000,000 to complete the surveys of oil and mineral resources obtained in the grant. This was announced by Rear Admiral Colby M. Chester, United States Navy, retired, in an address before the National Press Club, in which he gave the "inside story" of the contest his group waged to obtain the mammoth concession from the Turkish Government.

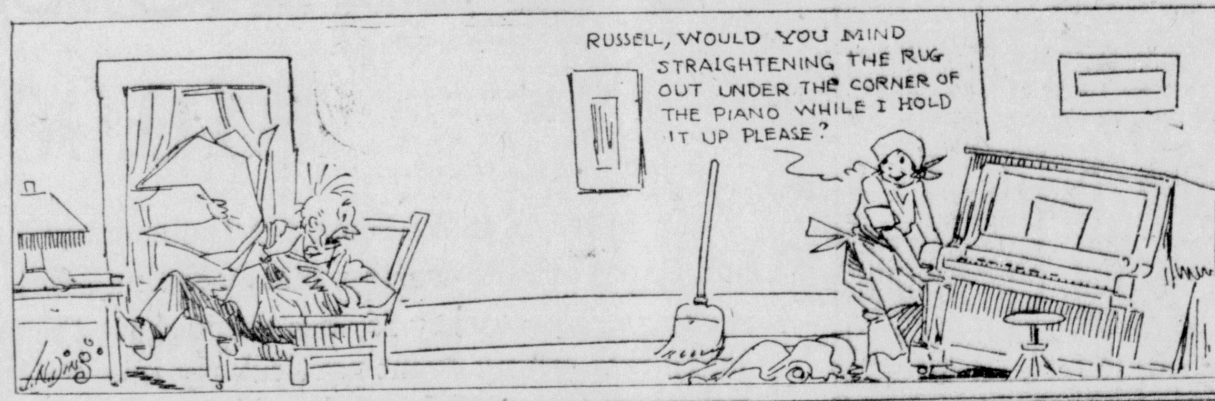

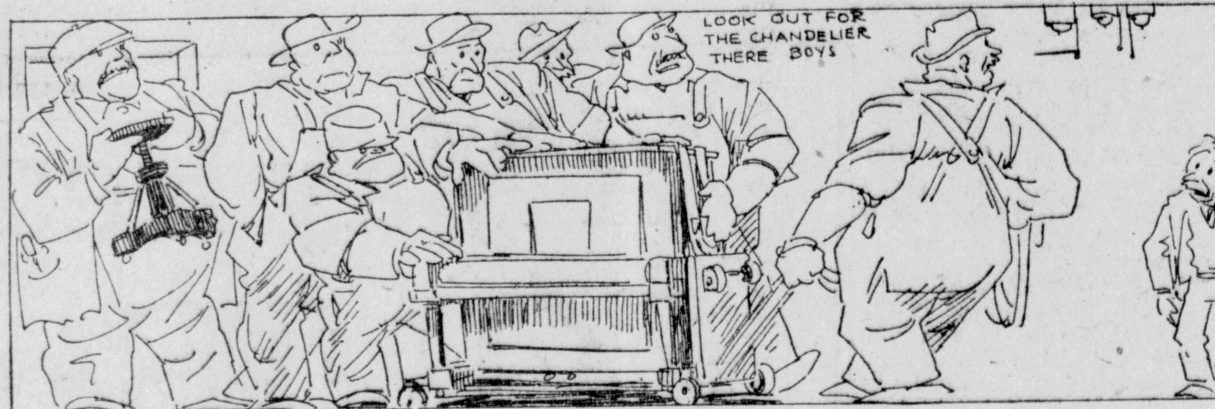

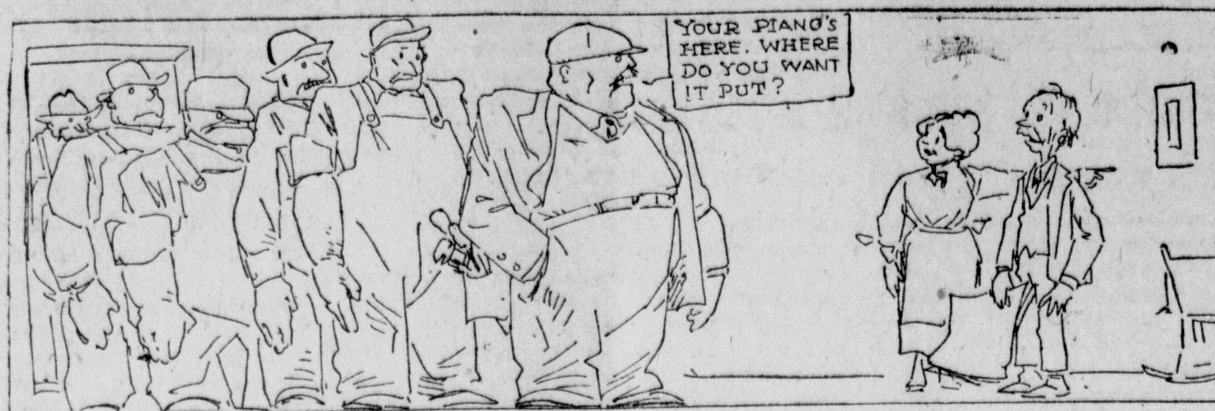

Admiral Chester said that his group had already expended $500,000 to make surveys and they were convinced they have the greatest concessions ever granted to a single group of trade developers. Numerous appeals were made to his group by the Standard Oil interests and other American oil companies to allow them to participate in the development of the concession, but they were rejected, according to Admiral Chester. He said:

Three years ago the Standard Oil came to me and asked that they be allowed to participate in the development of the concession, when we received it. I told them that my greatest difficulty was to keep the name of Rockefeller out of Turkey. Agents of the Standard Oil went to the Turkish Government and declared they were not behind the Chester group, but they were politely told that the Turkish Government was behind them.

Admiral Chester reviewed how he began working for the concession back in 1908. He said President Roosevelt urged him to go after the concession, because it was apparent then as well as at present that in a few years the American oil supplies would be exhausted, and the United States Navy would be hard pressed to obtain fuel, not to mention American industries. Continuing Admiral Chester said:

It will be only a few years when we will get no more oil from Mexico, and then the question would have been, tie up the navy for want of oil, or stop the automobiles—perhaps both of them. In the concession received from the Turkish Government, we have, we believe, the greatest oil wells in the world and in addition many by-products.

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

Tomorrow will be the anniversary of an event that Xenians will never forget, the flood of May 12, 1886.

A large number of Xenians were at Dayton last night, where they saw E. H. Sothern in the play "If I were King."

Quite a force of workmen are engaged at the old gas plant in getting ready to install a new plant and make many improvements. Southern Ohio is ablaze with enthusiasm for the high harness horse and great series of race meetings which will be held throughout the Mad river and Ohio Valley fair circuit. The circuit opens at Wellston, July 29, and then at Xenia, Urbana, Washington, C. H., Springfield Columbus and Dayton.

CLEARING THE COMPLEXION

We read so much about ways of clearing the complexion. Diet, exercise, special foods, special creams—they are all very good, anyone with a bad skin had best use all these methods as all are beneficial.

But one simple way is little talked about. A daily hot bath will do wonders in clearing a muddy skin, a blotchy skin, or one full of ugly large pores and blackheads.

The body, as we all know, is continually throwing off waste matter in one form or another. I forget how much goes off daily through the pores—a surprising amount anyway. One can perspire off pounds in a few hours, as any fat lady in a Turkish bath, or overweight horse jockey can tell you.

This waste, then, dries on the skin, some of it evaporates, much is absorbed by the clothing. Naturally, if there is too much, it will clog up the minute pores and prevent them from the body.

H. W. S.—Try a good hair tonic and massage the scalp every day until you feel the whole head glow from increased circulation.

D. J. G.—A bad breath may come from other causes besides the teeth. A catarrhal tendency or a poor digestion will also cause this unpleasantness.

Rae.—At 18 years of age these stray grey hairs merely show they exist a condition that should be improved. Probably your scalp is in need of a stimulating treatment through a good tonic and a daily massage. If these hairs are dead they will then drop out, or they will return to the original color as the scalp becomes invigorated.

WOMAN THINKS SHE CAN'T TALK ENOUGH

"I had gall stones for 14 years and suffered severely from gas, colic and indigestion. Doctors wanted me to go to the hospital, but I took Mav's Wonderful Remedy instead, and am now feeling fine and better than I ever did. I can't talk enough about this remedy." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sayre & Hemphill and druggists everywhere. adv

Today's Talk

THE STUMBLER

The world's sympathy drips for him who is frail.

I have always been drawn to that story of the lost sheep—the one out of the hundred. And there is nothing more dramatic and more poignant in its appeal to my heart interest, than that story of the Prodigal Son.

I can see God walking around in the big cities, keeping His eyes on those who are prone to stumble, those who often lose their footing, who need a helping hand, a pat on the back, and a little love poured into their faint hearts.

That's my idea of why there is a God—because He is needed!

One reason why I feel drawn toward the stumbler is that I so often stumble myself. I know how he feels. Perfect folks have never appealed to me. Because they have nothing in common with me. But he who has often lost what he has worked so hard to win—and then put his head and beard to its finding again—I want him for a friend!

So long as the world is spread with folks, just so long will the sweetness of the character of Christ perfume the lives of us all.

What a scene of beauty—that woman, a stumbler of the streets, she might be called, who stole into the house of Simon the Pharisee and sought Jesus that she might break the box of precious ointment cross His feet, transformed by His Infinite Love. The entire room must have been silenced. A stumbler loved and blessed by one who understood.

Who does not stumble? And who is he who may not rise if he will?

EIGHT GRADUATES OF SPRING VALLEY RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

Members of the last graduating class of Spring Valley township high school, as a second-grade school received their diplomas at the closing exercises, at that place, Thursday evening.

The commencement program included an announcement by County Superintendent of Schools H. C. Aultman that Spring Valley, beginning next September, would be a first-grade high school, and that all graduates of the present class, together with those of previous years, are expected to enroll next fall for the fourth year of high school work.

The announcement means that Spring Valley will be the last of the second-grade high schools in the county to be abolished, and that the future graduates will receive their annual year of study, in the new high school building, to be erected within the next few months. The action is taken in accordance with the law that guarantees first-grade high school training for all who desire it.

During previous years, while Spring Valley has ranked as a second-grade school, fourth-year pupils have been forced to come to the Xenia high school to receive their annual year's course. The new Spring Valley high school is expected to be completed by next December, work to start on the building, with the allowing of the bids, within the next few days.

Eight graduates received their diplomas at the exercises Thursday night. The commencement address was delivered by Professor A. A. Maysilis, of Dayton, Superintendent of the Montgomery County Schools. In his address Thursday night, he made a plea for more brotherly cooperation between the school boards, patrons and teachers, emphasizing the waste of time and money when this is not obtained.

He said that the ability of school teachers and officials, when applied to some other kind of work, brought from two to ten times as much in financial dividends, as the salary they were receiving. He stressed the need of strict observance of law, whether popular or not, since the result of disobeying one law, was that the younger generation held in disregard, all laws.

The commencement program opened with music by the Spring Valley orchestra, followed by the invocation by the Rev. Mr. Wally, of Spring Valley. The class history was told by Miss Margaret Sollers. The class address was given by Miss Marie Squires, the class prophecy, by Miss Winifred Penewit, and the Valedictorian address, by Miss Margaret Mitchener. Selections by the orchestra interspersed the program.

District School Superintendent D. H. Barnes delivered a short talk. County Superintendent of Schools Aultman presented diplomas to the following graduates: Sadie Moore, Miriam Smith, Oran Newton Turner, Marie Squires, Winifred Penewit, Charles Barley, Margaret Sollers, and Margaret Mitchener.

TO ATTEND INSPECTION

Members of Aldora Chapter, No. 262, Order of Eastern Star, will attend the annual inspection of Antioch Chapter, at Yellow Springs, Friday evening. The party will include, Miss Florence Mitchell, Mrs. Ed Wilkin's, Miss Florence Swan, and Mrs. J. G. Mitchell.

FONSECA IS MORAN'S PROBLEM

The injury to Babe Pinelli's wrist, which forced him out of the Red line up in the game with Boston Thursday, and resulted in Louie Fonseca getting the call to second base while Sammy Bohne was shifted to the difficult corner, increases the problem of what to do with the versatile vaudevillean, Fonseca.

Everybody will admit that Louie is too valuable a pastime to be decorating anybody's baseball dugout when there is work to be done, but "what to do with Louie" is a problem play for the puzzle workers. Hitting like a house afire, the warbler is making himself hard to get along with but the Red infield is cluttered up with a variety of stars.

Fonseca is the most valuable utility man in either big league. He can field any infield position in a pinch and do it well. He does not perform like a substitute when called into the fray, and despite long periods on the bench never seems to lose his batting eye. If Bohne, Pinelli or Caveney were hitting like they did last year it would be a simple matter to insert Louie into the pastime to bolster the club attack. But all three of these pastimers have come through with the stick while Bohne and Pinelli are considered among the classiest athletes in fielding their positions in either league. This leaves Caveney, who sometimes makes fielding slips, as evidenced by his three breaks Thursday, but this baby is clouting the old apple this year at a .342 clip and his triple Thursday won the game.

Jake Daubert, the veteran, has been handicapped by his early lay-off and has not been hitting with regularity, but there is every assurance that once the doorkeeper gets his eye, he will hit with the best of them. Furthermore, Jake has no peers at the first-basing job. When Fonseca stepped into the lineup cold at Boston Thursday he banged out three hits in four trips, an extremely hard feat. And yet with a batting average of .435 he is forced to occupy the bench until one of the regulars is forced out of the going.

Purify your Blood this Spring with S.S.S.

Of course you will purify your blood, you realize the importance of it. Many people, however, overlook the fact that winter, with its heavy meat diets, has left their blood thick and sluggish. That listless, tired feeling creeps over them. They feel that something is wrong—yet, they can not say just what! But isn't it easy to throw off the ills of winter! Take, for instance, S. S. S., the world's best blood medicine for five generations. S. S. S. purifies the blood. It makes it clean and rich. S. S. S. stops rheumatism and skin eruptions; pimples, blackheads, acne, boils, eczema. It builds up run-down, tired men and women, beautifies complexions, and makes the flesh firmer! S. S. S. will give you greater endurance, energy and strength!

Mr. D. G. Cantrell, 1202 East 4th St., Alton, Ill., writes: "For five years I was troubled with pimples and blackheads on my face and back. After taking S. S. S. for only a short while all my pimples started to leave. I feel 100% better and can eat more than ever. S. S. S. is a grand medicine."

Try it yourself. S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores. The large size is more economical. Get a bottle today!

S.S.S. makes you feel like yourself again

We again long to see the world through the eyes of youth. This is of course forbidden us. But if your eyes have aged until they can not focus properly upon your vision's point of view we can examine them and make for you glasses that will correct the defects and let you see perfectly. We are skilled in this work.

HIS DEATH STIRS ENTIRE NATION

The death of Martin Tabert, a Munich (North Dakota) youth, in a Florida lumber camp has stirred the entire nation. Tabert was arrested for stealing a ride on a train and sentenced to six months imprisonment. His parents sent the money to pay his fine, but it was returned, and the boy leased to a lumber company; then he became ill. He could not work as fast as the other prisoners, and he was lashed. Convicts say he died of the whipping, and Whipping Boss Higginbotham has been indicted for his murder. The Legislature of North Dakota took up the case, with the result that Florida will probably abolish flogging and the leasing of prisoners to corporations.

FIGURES IN TRIANGLE OF HEARTS

Mrs. James Nuttal, Mrs. James Morris & Alice.

For eleven years little Alice thought, Mrs. James Nuttal, of Chicago, was her real mother, and she loved her as such. Then after a long search, the child's real mother, Mrs. James Morris, who had had to give up the care of the girl in infancy to a foundling asylum, from which Mrs. Nuttal took her, found her. A Chicago judge has been called upon to render a "judgment of Solomon" and give the child either to the real mother of the foster-mother, both of whom love her dearly.

Survivors.

Seven lives were lost when the converted collier Seaconnet sprang a leak off Vineyard Sound Lighthouse and sank before aid could reach her. The Revenue Cutter Acushnet picked up some of the survivors who had taken to the small boats. Mrs. Romi J. Hudgins, wife of the third mate of the ship, the only woman on board was praised for her gallantry in taking her place with the men in balancing out the life boats. Captain James J. Miller of Seaconnet, is shown at the left of the group of survivors. The ship was owned by New England Fuel & Transportation company and was en route from Norfolk, Va., to Boston.

MYSTERY DEEPENS IN DEATH OF YOUTH

Where body was found.

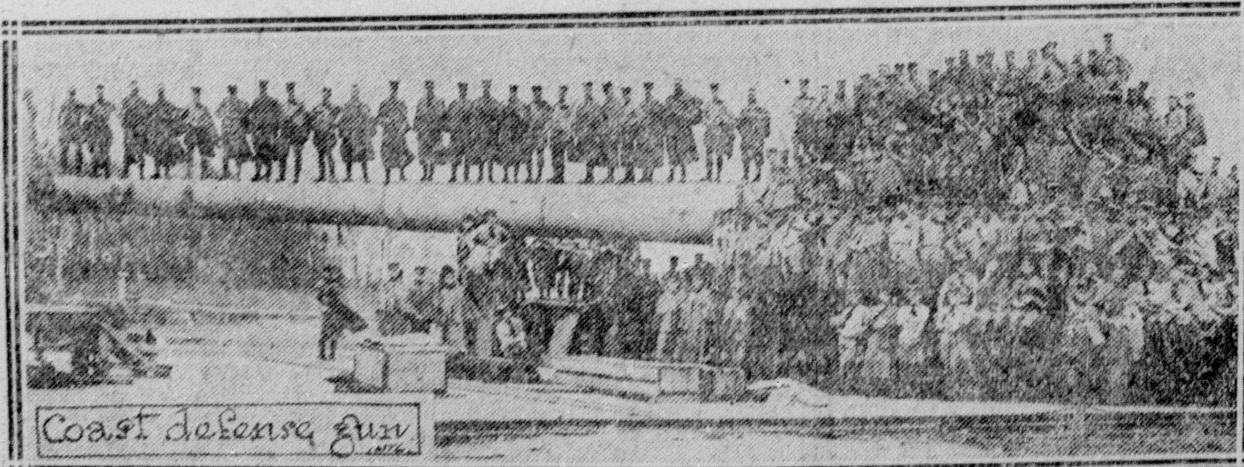

Goodwin Home.

When his parents separated when he was a child Fred Carter was taken to the Kent (Connecticut) home of Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Goodwin. The Goodwins had, long before that time, adopted Jennie Barker, now a 32-year-old school teacher. The Goodwins died a few years ago, and Carter continued to live with Miss Barker who wielded a strange influence over him. In the Goodwin home a few weeks ago Carter, now 19, disappeared. Bloodstains were found near his home and later a shotgun was found in the Housatonic River. A few days ago Carter's chum, Henry Gregory shown above in a skull found his body in the river. He had been shot to death, but although shot marks were found on his shirt, none was found on his outer clothing. Although some were inclined to the suicide theory no motive could be found, nor could the absence of shotmarks on his outer clothing be explained. Carter is shown here, with his graduating class in the Kent High school.

WEST POINTERS VIEW COAST DEFENSE GUNS

than 250 strong, visited the Aberdeen (Maryland) proving grounds recently to inspect the latest types of field pieces and coast defense guns. The cadets are shown on one of the huge coast defense rifles being made for a Western harbor fortress.

THESE "BEAVERS" WOULD BE POPULAR IN LONDON

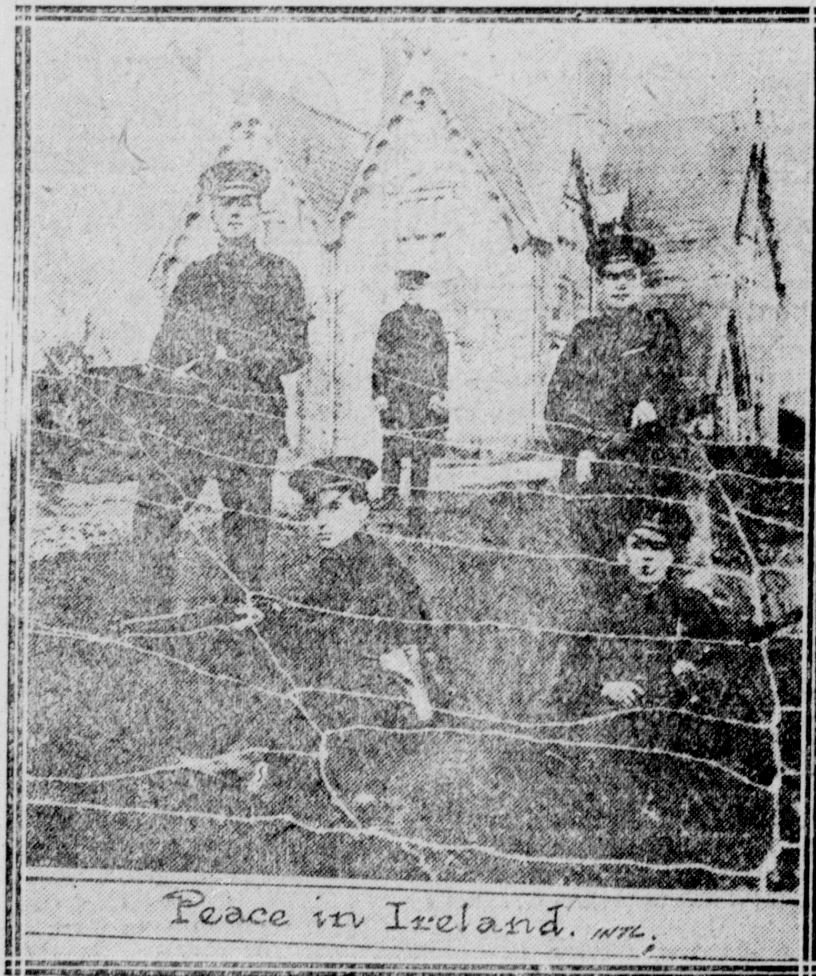

Whiskers' Champions.

London's favorite pastime now is to play "beaver," the idea being for two contestants to cry "Beaver!" every time they see a man with whiskers. The player who sees the most whiskered men in a day wins the wager. These two San Francisco men, who claim the world's "whiskers" championship, are original Forty-niners, and between them they have more than 28 feet of whiskers. The man at the left has a beard that measures 11 feet 3 inches, while that of the man at the right is 17 feet long.

NO SIGNS OF PEACE IN IRELAND

Peace in Ireland.

Despite Eamonn de Valera's "proclamation" to suspend hostilities in Ireland there are no signs of peace in this "distressful land." This photograph shows Royal Ulster Specials on guard behind barbed wire, entanglements on the County Tyrone and County Monaghan fronts.

DEATH, NOT 'STORK', GIVES JACKIE SISTER

Mrs. Jack Coogan, Sr. & Priscilla D. Moran.

Mrs. Jack Coogan, Sr., mother of the noted "Kid" screen actor, is shown here at her Los Angeles home, with Priscilla Dean Moran, four and a half years old, whom she is to adopt. The little girl's mother died a few days ago, after a lingering illness. Priscilla expressed a wish to be Jackie Coogan's little sister, and her father, Leo Moran, communicated with Mrs. Coogan, who readily consented to adopt the child.

Styles BY LENORE

To dress becomingly and with a certain degree of individuality when the income is not large, it is often desirable to choose clothes that is a little more unusual than the average models. A dress with some originality providing it is quiet and simple and not conspicuously extreme in design, gives more character to the appearance; and because it is not merely of-the-moment but has a permanent sort of interest, it is not so boring to oneself or to one's friends, as the more common place dresses when worn for a long time.

As an illustration of this idea the triple-tier frock sketched above is suggested. Tiered skirts are one of the most attractive innovations advanced in Paris this season, but as yet this style has not been seized upon by the mass.

In the original model which was brought from Paris, this design was developed in black crepe de chine with white georgette for the little cape effect which forms also the lower section of the sleeves in front, and a long white silk tassel to complete the girle. Note particularly the skillful cutting of the tiers, which gives them more fullness and a graceful sideward dip in the back.

Of course, only a slender figure can wear a dress of this kind.

DR. A. D. D'HAVEN RESIGNS AS MEMBER OF CITY COMMISSION TO ACCEPT JOB AS HEALTH COMMISSIONER OF XENIA

The resignation of Dr. A. D. DeHaven, as city commissioner, his immediate appointment by City Manager S. O. Hale as city health commissioner and the election of Dr. C. G. McPherson to the vacancy on the board of commissioners marked an unexpected turn in the routine of City Commission meeting Thursday night.

Dr. DeHaven resigned to accept the position of health commissioner as a solution to the problem of supplying a successor to Dr. Grube, whose resignation handed in last September took effect, the first of last January and who has served since in a temporary capacity as acting head of the health department.

Members of the commission, although not anticipating the resignation of Dr. DeHaven, accepted the arrangement immediately as a final solution to the knotty health problem that has been nagging at their heels since last summer and immediately balloted on his successor. Dr. McPherson was nominated by Commissioner George E. Hudson and was elected on the first ballot over George M. Stiles, who was nominated by Commissioner Harry Fisher. The vote was three to one, Commissioner Fisher voting for his candidate in the race and Dr. DeHaven not voting.

The sudden change in the personnel of the commission came late in the meeting. President H. L. Smith asked City Manager Hale concerning the situation in the health department. The manager replied that the position of health commissioner had been offered to several physicians, who had refused.

"I'll tell you what I'll do," spoke up Dr. DeHaven. "If you will appoint me health commissioner, I'll resign from the commission to take the job."

Members of the board looked at each other a moment. Judge Smith spoke first. "I don't know whether you men know anything about poker or not, but I'll call that," he said.

City Solicitor J. A. Finney wrote out the resignation which Dr. DeHaven signed to take effect immediately. The resignation was read to the board by City Auditor T. H. Zell.

Commissioner Hudson moved that the resignation be accepted, with an expression of regret from the commission at Dr. DeHaven's departure and of appreciation of his interest and willingness to take up the health department work. The motion passed unanimously and Dr. DeHaven moved from the table around which the commissioners were seated to the spectator's section of the commission chamber.

The resignation of Dr. DeHaven removed the next to the last charter member of the commission from the board, Commissioner Fisher being the only other original member elected. Dr. DeHaven was elected to serve on the first commission, which took office January 1, 1918, for two years. He later was re-elected for a four year term, which would have expired at the end of this year. He did not intend to be a candidate for re-election.

The retiring commissioner has been vice-president of the board since he qualified as a member of the first commission and for the last two months has been Mayor, a nominal position under the Commission Manager form of government, not having the executive, judicial or administrative powers of that office as under the federal style of government. In the latter position he was elected to succeed the late Mayor M. J. Hartley, whose death occurred three months ago. He has been interested in the success of the commission manager form of government and took part in all the councils that marked the experimental stages of this government style.

The health tangle, settled by the acceptance of the health commissioner by Dr. DeHaven, developed last summer during the typhoid fever epidemic. Dr. DeHaven, who served as health officer for the city under the former health law a number of years ago, has had several years experience in the work. He will spend several days familiarizing himself with the office now before actually assuming his duties.

Dr. C. G. McPherson will be seated as a member of the commission at the next meeting, at which time the commission is expected to elect a Mayor and a vice-president to fill those offices made vacant by the resignation of Commissioner DeHaven.

The new commissioner is a well-known member of the Xenia medical fraternity and of the Greene County Medical Society. During the war he served as a First Lieutenant in the U. S. Medical Corps, and has been active in American Legion work. At present he is Commander of Joseph P. Foody Post, No. 95, American Legion but he has never sought or held a public office. His election in place of Dr. DeHaven is expected to supply the commission with counsel in the matter of health problems that confront the city legislative body.

Dr. DeHaven's resignation read as follows: "To the Hon. Board of City Commissioners—

"I hereby tender my resignation as City Commissioner of the City of Xenia, Ohio, and request that the same be accepted to take effect immediately.

"Dated at Xenia, Ohio, this May 10, 1923.

(Signed) A. D. DeHaven.

WHO WILL BE NEXT SHEIK OF XENIA IS QUESTION BEFORE BODY

The resignation of Dr. A. D. DeHaven, Mayor and vice-president of the City Commission as a member of that body to accept the position of health commissioner Thursday night, left four vacancies to fill.

The first was filled immediately when Dr. C. G. McPherson was elected commissioner to succeed Dr. DeHaven for the rest of the current year.

"Three more positions held by Dr. DeHaven will have to be filled at the next meeting," said City Manager S. O. Hale after the mayor had left his seat at the commission table. "The commission will have to elect a new mayor, a vice-president of the commission and a 'sheik'."

Dr. DeHaven won the latter appellation in a local barbershop several weeks ago, when a barbershop philosopher opined that as a sheik is the mayor of a tribe, therefore Dr. DeHaven was the sheik of Xenia.

The name stuck, and the retiring mayor good-naturedly answered to the title "sheik" at commission meetings. As the title goes with that of Mayor, the commissioner elected to that position will also draw down the Arabian distinction.

"Extra Nice Hard Sauce for Puddings: Cream one-quarter of a pound of butter. Sift one cup of confectioner's sugar and add it gradually to the butter. Beat well, then add four tablespoons of boiling water (one at a time, beating between each spoonful). Now beat the mixture for about 40 minutes, then fold in the stiffly whipped white of one egg. Put this into the dish in which you intend to serve it, as it does not look as well if disturbed after it stiffens. This sauce is good as long as it lasts. It can be made the day before it is wanted. In warm weather I put it in my ice-chest between the adding of each of the tablespoons of boiling water. Use a silver fork for beating."—Reader.

"My Sponge Cake: Beat together thoroughly one cup of sugar and the yolks of three eggs. Then add four tablespoons of cold water and one cup of flour which has been mixed and sifted with one teaspoon of baking powder. Flavor with one teaspoon of vanilla extract and, last, fold in the whites of the three eggs stiffly whipped. After folding them in do not stir any more. Turn into a pan and bake in a moderate oven for about 30 minutes."—Mrs. E. W. A.

"Caramel Tapioca: Cook together till clear one-half cup of minute tapioca, a pinch of salt and three cups of hot water. Add one and one-half cups of brown sugar and one cup of nutmeats finely chopped. Cook five minutes, then turn into cups to stand until firm and cold. Serve with whipped cream. Peaches or pineapple may be added to this tapioca. If desired, and a custard sauce served with it in place of whipped cream."—Subscriber.

"Old-Fashioned Indian Pudding: Into one quart of boiling milk stir, slowly, seven tablespoons of cornmeal then remove from stove and add one beaten egg, one-half teaspoon of ground ginger, two-thirds of a cup of molasses and a pinch of salt. Bake one hour in a moderate oven."—Mrs. C. B. C.

"Crumb Pie: Cook together for five minutes one cup of bread crumbs, one cup of sugar, one-half cup shredded coconut and two egg-yolks. Flavor with one cup of orange juice, cool and turn into a lower crust which you have previously baked. Use the two egg-whites as a meringue."—A Mother.

TAXICAB ORDINANCE PASSED THURSDAY PROVIDES CHANGE

Xenia's new taxicab ordinance, fixing annual license fees and other regulatory laws to govern operation of taxicabs, was passed by the City Commission at Thursday night's meeting after being discussed in successive meetings for some time.

The ordinance provides that operators with a rate schedule drawn up and approved by local taxicab operators and presented to the commission Thursday night by Dan Donovan, operator of the Yellow Cabs.

The ordinance provides that operators must obtain an annual license at the rate of $10 for vehicles with a carrying capacity not exceeding six; $18 annually for vehicles with a carrying capacity not exceeding 12 and $25 annually for vehicles with a passenger capacity of more than 12 passengers.

Rates provided in the ordinance, include a 25-cent fare for one passenger within the city limits for the first three-quarters mile and a 50-cent extra charge for each trunk. Taxi fare to the Green County Fairgrounds was fixed at not to exceed 15-cents, with an addition 50 cents for each trunk.

The ordinance provides that tax operators must apply for licenses in writing, and that the driver must be a citizen of the United States, be able to read, write and speak English, be at least 21 years of age, and must have been a resident of Ohio 12 months and have three months experience in the operation of motor vehicles.

The ordinance further provides that violators of any section or clause may be charged with a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine not to exceed $100 and costs.

ANN HAS STILL MORE TO BEAR Chapter LXXXII

On the third morning after Ann had taken up her residence with Doctor Grayson, Bessie reported that Dick and Grace had left for San Bernardino. Dick had been sulky, annoyed that she and Ned thought it their duty to spend the night at his ranch; had told them it was unnecessary.

"I told him that I wasn't going to let Grace risk losing her reputation, and he looked dazed. He asked: 'You mean you think I can't be trusted?' I told him he might be perfectly trustworthy, but no one would believe it with you gone because of Grace and her insistence upon remaining in your absence. I really don't think the blundering creature had realized quite how it looked. He is so puffed, so anxious to show Grace he is boss, that he hasn't had room for any other feeling. But Grace is as saucy, as apparently gay as ever."

"Are they going to find a maid?" Ann asked.

"They didn't say so. Dick said he needed some things for the house, and Grace wants some new records. When we got there last night she complained of being tired of all you had."

The China boy drove Ann over so she might get some more clean clothes for Jack and herself. She had no objections to entering the house if Grace was not there, but she was shocked at the untidy place in spite of an evident attempt to clean up a little before they left. She walked through the rooms she had arranged with such pride and wondered if she would ever feel the same again. She touched nothing although it was all she could do not to stay and clean. She found the clothing she came for and left at once, careful to disturb nothing that would show she had been there.

Would Dick drink? Grace was no influence for good. Her being with him would not deter him. Probably she would drink with him, think it sporting. All day Ann worried. Dick was so irresponsible when he drank. And he was angry, probably in a way ashamed because of Bessie, the stand she had taken. He would be sure to do something foolish.

It was about 5 o'clock. Nora was in the kitchen, Ann on the porch with some mending for the doctor, who had not yet come in from his calls. Little Jack was playing some distance from the house, but in the yard fronting the roadway. She could see him from where she sat, and occasionally called to him. Suddenly she saw a car drive swiftly up, and while she sat almost paralyzed for a moment, jump into the car and drive swiftly away.

Ann screamed and ran after them, but all she could see was a cloud of dust. If only the doctor would come! That it was Grace who had taken Jack she had no doubt. Was Dick in the car and party to it? She had not had time to see. Hearing her scream, Nora had run out, followed by the China boy, but they, like Ann, were helpless. The car was out of sight.

Ann hurried to the telephone and called Bessie.

"I'll come right over. Don't worry more than you can help. Ann. She won't hurt Jackie. It is just a ruse to bring you to terms. She has probably taken him home."

But Bessie's assurance scarcely brought Ann any comfort. She walked back and forth frantically, longing for Doctor Grayson to come. Oh, why had she left her home? For the first time doubt of her action assailed her. She would endure a dozen Graces rather than have her boy taken from her.

A motor drove up. It was not the doctor, but Hugh Norton. To him Ann told the whole miserable story—how Dick had overheard him that day, had seen him kiss her hand, of his furious accusations, and his plan "to get even" by installing Grace in their home for a visit in spite of Ann's refusal to receive her.

"So it is all my fault," Hugh said sadly, "and I would do anything to save you pain, Ann."

"No, Hugh, a crisis was bound to come soon anyway. I had reached the point where that girl drove me almost insane. She was taking Dick from me, was ruining our lives together. But I can't stay away when Jack is there—I can't!" Then wildly she added: "He may not be there. She make take him where we can't find him."

"We will find him, Ann. Let Nora come with me—it would be foolish for you to do so. Might make it harder to get hold of Jackie."

Nora appeared at Ann's call, wiping her eyes on her apron. "Go with Mr. Norton, Nora, and do just as he tells you."

"I'll do anything to find my lamb," she sobbed as she climbed in beside Hugh.

They had been gone but a little while when Bessie drove up. "Jump in, Ann, we'll do some scouting, too," she said. Then as they drove along she talked to Ann until she stopped sobbing, assuring her that no harm would come to Jack, that he liked Grace and wouldn't fret. Tomorrow—Dick at Last Capitulates

"Ka-di-ok is the Finest Blood Medicine and System Tonic I Have Ever Heard of," Says Columbus Man.

Mr. Emil Longhenry, who lives at 726 Reinhard Avenue, Columbus, says: "I was all run down and felt tired all the time; was also very nervous and was always constipated. As a rule, after supper I would fall asleep in my chair, as it seemed impossible for me to keep awake. My face and hands were in a miserable condition with eczema; my skin would get red and inflamed and crack open. It looked so bad at times that I felt almost ashamed to be seen by my friends. I tried everything to overcome it in the way of ointments and lotions but could not cure it. Since taking Ka-di-ok my skin has all cleaned up and has become smooth and soft. Not only that, I am feeling fine in every way; I don't fall asleep in any more chairs, but I eat heartily and am strong and fit and when it is time to go to bed I am ready for sleep, but not before. I want to say in conclusion that my bowels move freely and my blood is in fine condition. Ka-di-ok is the finest blood medicine and system tonic I have ever heard of in my life."

REVENGE MOTIVE FOR MURDER OF RUSS DELEGATE

Swiss Empties Revolver at Trio of Soviet Representatives at Lausanne

SEE COMPLICATIONS

International Troubles May Follow—Murderer Is Held by Police

Lausanne, Switzerland, May 11.—M. Vorovsky, head of the soviet delegation now in Lausanne; Secretary Ahrens of the same delegation, and M. Dirlirkowski, another Russian, were shot while dining at the Hotel Cecil. Vorovsky was almost instantly killed and the others seriously injured.

Vorovsky, accompanied by the other members of the delegation, were at dinner when a man at a neighboring table, said to be a Swiss fascist, rose and fired 10 shots. Vorovsky fell dead, Ahrens was hit twice in the leg, and Dirlirkowski was critically shot in the body.

The murderer having emptied his revolver, turned to the horror-stricken guests, who had risen in alarm, and said: "Call the police. I have no regrets for what I have done."

The police refuse to disclose the identity of the assassin, but it is stated by others that his name is Conrad, that he came from Zurich, and that he was formerly a captain in the Russian imperial army.

Ahrens described the shooting, saying: "When we sat down to dinner we noticed an elegantly dressed young man at a table near us. He was drinking cognac continuously, and when he got up I saw the muzzle of his revolver pointed at Vorovsky's back. He pulled the trigger and Vorovsky was killed instantly. I was shot in the leg and when I reached for my revolver I fainted and fell over Vorovsky's body."

Eye-witnesses declare that after the shooting Conrad walked calmly to the hotel corridor smoking a cigarette. There he asked if Vorovsky was dead and when told that he was he said: "I have avenged my father and uncle."

In a statement to the press Ahrens said: "I will formally accuse the Swiss government of being an accomplice in this murder, because no precautions were taken to safeguard the soviet delegates. I accuse the secretariat of the conference of doing everything in his power to render the situation of the Russian delegates difficult. It is the duty of my government to decide what to do to avenge the cowardly murder of my chief."

International complications are foreseen as a result of the assassination of Vorovsky. It is being likened to the Sarajevo murders, which set Europe ablaze in 1914.

Ahrens refused to allow the Swiss government to take charge of the body of Vorovsky, and is holding the body to await the arrival of a Russian doctor from Geneva.

The slain delegate was an engineer and former Bolshevik agent at Stockholm.

Conrad returned from Russia two months ago. He is said to have written in a letter that he wanted to kill Vorovsky because his father and uncle had died of hunger and torture. He fought against Germany until 1917. He had no accomplices.

"My only hope is that I have an opportunity to get George Tchitcher in also."

This declaration was made here today by Alexander Conrad, a Swiss, who shot and killed M. Vorovsky, Russian observer at the Near East peace conference, in the dining room at the Hotel Cecil last night.

Conrad paced restlessly up and down his cell as he talked. He spent a sleepless night, rolling about on his prison cot and frequently rising to walk up and down his cell. "He is really dead, isn't he?" exclaimed the prisoner, referring to Vorovsky. "I was sure he was dead when I saw him fall. How the Russians tortured my father and my uncle. It was vengeance. They had it coming to them. I want to get Tchitcher in before I die."

RELEASE OF AMERICAN PRISONERS BY CHINESE BANDITS PREDICTED

Think Foreigners Will Be Permitted to Go Within 24 Hours—Peaceful Negotiations Are Resumed In Peking.

Washington, May 11.—The death of only one of the foreigners held captive by the Suchow bandits may lead to international complications, according to a warning served upon authorities in Nankin, by Jacob Gould Schurman, the American minister to China, the state department announced today.

Schurman advised Secretary of State Hughes that he had told Governor Chi, the chief official in Nankin that the time was now the most important element in the situation and that the immediate release of the captives was essential to avoid possible death and resulting trouble between the Peking government and other powers.

DOPE FOUND; ARRESTS MADE

Akron, O., May 11.—A boy of eight years, two women and 14 men were arrested by federal agents and local police. The boy is said to be the youngest person engaged in narcotic traffic ever arrested. The officers were about to depart from the residence of Fred Martino, 30, after failing to find any evidence, when Peter, Martino's 8-year-old son, revealed the hiding place of a can of morphine and cocaine. Peter is said to have carried "dope" from his home to his father's soft drink saloon.

Peking, May 11.—Release of the several Americans and other foreigners held by the Shanghai train bandits within 24 hours, was predicted in advice received here today.

The advice from Lincheng said peaceful negotiations were again proceeding after an apparent deadlock, with the two great war lords of China—Tsoo-Kun and Chang Tso-Lin—taking an active part.

The diplomatic body, including representatives of all foreign powers was to meet this afternoon for decision on joint action in the kidnapping of many Americans and other foreigners by the Shanghai-Peking express train bandits.

The meeting was called following reports that negotiations between the bandits and representatives of the Peking government were at a standstill.

The political aspect of the kidnappings which has come to the forefront in the recent negotiations has somewhat changed the situation.

All responsibility now rests with the Chinese investigating commission sent to Lin-Cheng at the request of the dean of the diplomatic corps.

The diplomatic body, it was stated prior to the session, is resolved for the present not to address Marshal Tsoo-Kun directly. He is the military power in the district affected and some observers have professed to believe that his agents are responsible for the bandit operations.

The consular body at Lin Cheng, new including American, French, Italian and British representatives have received precise order not to take up direct relations and negotiations with the brigands.

All negotiations are in the hands of the Chinese commission. This means a certain deadlock, it is believed here as the brigands, up until now, have refused negotiations with the Chinese government commission, suspecting the Chinese of treachery. The bandits wanted guarantees from the foreigners, especially the consuls and the diplomatic body which can never be given.

As a result, expiration of the ultimatum delivered the Chinese government by the diplomatic body which called for the release of the prisoners by midnight May 12 is tensely awaited.

The Catholic missionary at Lin-Cheng after interviewing the bandit chieftain, reported his attitude to the foreign consuls on the ground. One of the consuls wiring the missionary's report to Peking stated the brigands demanded withdrawal of the troops before opening negotiations for the release of prisoners. He said they are unwilling to mediate through military authorities, desiring instead direct communication with the American and European consuls regarding terms. The missionary said the bandit leader was emphatic in declaring he would not deal with Peking.

The bandit leader told the missionary the prisoners were well and living in huts in the hills north of Y. Huien and Tung-Chiang.

Offers of foodstuffs and clothes for the captives were refused by the brigands who were said to number 900.

PAINFULLY INJURED IN XENIA ACCIDENT

William Hardyshe, a laborer of Urbana, but who boards on West Main Street, this city, received severe bruises and was knocked unconscious for some time, but not seriously injured, in an accident at the log yard on Bellbrook avenue, Thursday morning. The accident happened when Hardyshe was loading logs into a car on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, when a switch engine struck the car, and knocked the pulley pole into the car, where Hardyshe was standing.

The long pole knocked down telephone wires over the car, which came into contact with a chain Hardyshe was holding. The shock passed through the workman's body, and he lost consciousness. The falling pole struck him in the face, and caused painful bruises. The injured man was removed to the office of Dr. W. A. Galloway, where his injuries were dressed. He was able to leave the doctor's office, Thursday afternoon.

ESCAPES DEATH IN LEAP

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 11.—Weary of the fight to live with her meager wages in a shirt factory, and lonely as well, pretty Fannie Smith, 21 years old, leaped last night from the high bridge linking Cincinnati and Newport, Ky.

Miss Smith, whose home is 521 East Thirteenth Street, survived the 125 foot dive into the cold Ohio, escaping with only a few bruises received when her body struck the river.

LABOR LEADER INDICTED

Marion, O., May 11.—James Steele, charged with circulating false rumors which caused a run on the Marion Savings bank, was indicted by the grand jury. Steele, a labor leader, will be arraigned tomorrow.

SEVEN AMERICAN DESTROYERS SENT TO SHANTUNG PORT

Washington, May 11.—Seven American destroyers have been ordered from Shanghai and Kobe to Tsingtao, one of the principal ports of Shantung province, it was announced by the navy department. They will hold themselves in readiness for emergency use if the occasion requires.

War department officials stated that, while no orders for troop movements have been issued, 10,600 troops in the Philippines are in such a state of readiness that they could be embarked for China within 48 hours from the receipt of orders.

The United States does not contemplate armed action in China while the Americans are still held captive. A high administration official explained that whatever steps of that nature may ultimately be decided upon they probably will be held in abeyance until the American prisoners are released. Their lives might be endangered by hasty and premature action, it was stated.

Many high officials here take the view that once the present crisis is passed the Chinese government might secretly welcome foreign intervention. Government of China by an international commission for five years or so would not only result in the restoration of order and the cessation of bandit raids, but in the curbing of the power of the Tschuns, or military governors of the provinces, and in the stabilization of Chinese finances, officials say.

State department officials stated that Minister Jacob Gould Schurman has informed the Chinese foreign office that the United States cares nothing as to the methods pursued in obtaining the release of the American prisoners, but wants results. Minister Schurman, it was explained, declined to assume the responsibility of asking the Chinese to act along definite lines.

Ambassador Geddes has conferred several times recently with Secretary Hughes on the Chinese situation. They are understood to have reached a complete accord as to the policy to be pursued in the present crisis by the United States and Great Britain.

Cleveland, May 11.—A police squad, armed with riot guns was searching today for Patrolman Dennis Griffin, who was believed by police to have been kidnaped by a prisoner he was taking to police station earlier in the day.

MINING TOWN IS AGAIN CENTER OF BIG COAL FIGHT

Pomeroy, Ohio, Scene of Grand Jury Investigation of Death

Pomeroy, O., May 11.—With this little town as the battle ground of the warfare which has waged for many years between union coal miners and coal operators in the West Virginia fields was being fought over again today.

The grand jury probing the killing of J. W. Swanner and Edward Reynolds shot to death Wednesday at the home of James W. Miller, union miners, is due to report sometime today. An indictment, charging first degree murder is expected to be voted against Miller who admits the killing but declares it was done to prevent his kidnaping into West Virginia.

Representing the United Mine Workers of America here are W. M. Petry, vice president of District 17, and F. L. Bellard, from international headquarters. Representing the prosecution and the coal operators is C. M. Belcher, of Charleston, identified with the states cases against Keeney Mooney and other union leaders.

SEES PASSAGE OF BONUS BILL

Washington, May 11.—Enactment of a federal adjusted compensation law by the congress which meets next December is as certain as the reconvening of congress itself, declared John T. Taylor, vice chairman of the legion's legislative committee. As a result of the elections last fall the senate stands 70 to 26 on the question, he said. This is 18 votes more than the two-thirds necessary in case the president should again refuse to accept the judgment of congress.

EASTERN COUNTIES ARE RECOGNIZED

Columbus, O., May 11.—George W. Roche, Steubenville, has been appointed as an inspector in the automobile division effective July 1, Secretary of State Thad H. Brown announced today. Roche was formerly an oil inspector in the Department of Commerce under former Governor Davis. He is a member of the Jefferson County Republican Executive Committee.

Secretary Brown has adopted the policy of recognizing the Eastern Ohio counties, which are Republican. This is evidenced by his recent appointment of William V. Bennett, Belmont County, as corporation adviser and Mahoning County having been given the appointment of Mr. George D. Gessman, as chief clerk in the automobile division. Mr. Brown announced that another inspector in the automobile division will be appointed from Trouball County.

Joseph Leiter, son of the late Levi Z. Leiter, of Chicago, is one of the chief figures in the litigation begun there for the custody of the $100,000,000 Leiter estate. The suit for the accounting was instituted by Lady Hyde, Countess of Suffolk and Berks, widow of the late Earl of Suffolk and Leiter's sister. Leiter's other sister, Mrs. Colla Campbell, wife of a British army officer, is named co-defendant in charges of mismanagement and malfeasance.

POLICEMAN KIDNAPED BY MAN HE ARRESTED

Believe Cleveland Patrolman Victim of Band of Thugs and Spirited Away While Taking Prisoner To Jail.

Cleveland, May 11.—A police squad, armed with riot guns was searching today for Patrolman Dennis Griffin, who was believed by police to have been kidnaped by a prisoner he was taking to police station earlier in the day.

Griffin had been sent to a garage in the East End to arrest a man suspected of stealing an automobile. Another patrolman had been keeping an all night vigil, awaiting the return of the suspect. Griffin reached the garage at 6:30 shortly afterward the suspect drove in and was placed under arrest.

Griffin jumped in the car with his prisoner to take him to the Fourteenth Precinct station, to which he was assigned. When he failed to arrive with his prisoner and more than an hour had elapsed, a general alarm was sent out over the city and shortly after nine o'clock today, Chief of Police Jacob W. Graul, took personal charge of the search for the missing patrolman.

Police believe that the man arrested was one of a band of five robbers, who earlier in the day had held up and robbed four persons and secured money and jewelry valued at $3,200.

That the bandit under arrest may have been joined by some of his companions, the patrolman overpowered and gagged and driven to a lonely spot was thought possible by officials.

UTILIZE RADIO AS PROTECTION IN EMERGENCIES

Hoover Announces Regulations Covering Broadcasting Stations

CONTINUOUS WATCH

Land Radio to Play Role On Land as it Does On Sea.

Washington, May 11.—Looking to protection of every locality of the U. S. in cases of storms, floods or other grave emergencies, Secretary of Commerce Hoover announced today radio regulations which provide that one or more operators must be on duty at all hours in broadcasting stations holding commercial first class licenses.

Continuous watch must be maintained and operators are required to render any assistance possible in emergencies, supplementing existing public communication facilities that may be temporarily interrupted.

Under this regulation, land radio assumes the same importance in the protection of life and property as does wireless on the high seas.

The radio, officials said, has passed from the experimental and "jazzmania" stage to that of a great public institution.

Stations failing to meet the new requirements will suffer loss of licenses. All recommendations adopted by the second national radio conference have been incorporated into regulation by Secretary Hoover, acting under the flexible provisions of the radio act of 1922.

Violations of the law have been reported from west, south and east coast points where broadcasting stations are alleged to be using more power than is necessary in carrying out communications. Only in case of signals or radiograms relating to vessels in distress is unlimited power permitted. Fines up to $100 and loss of license are provided as penalties.

The new wave lengths adopted by the radio conference will go into effect at noon, May 15. Warning was issued today that the new wave lengths must not be used for broadcasting prior to that date. Radio inspectors will notify owners of all licenses class B stations of the wave lengths assigned for their locality.

Beginning May 15, the inspectors in each district will check the transmitting wave lengths of stations by personal inspections and by listening in with accurate calibrated receivers.

RAIL COMMISSION DEADLOCKED OVER SENIORITY ISSUES

Little Chance Seen for Settlement of Dispute Caused By Strike

Chicago, May 11.—The Baltimore Agreement Commission created in September, 1922, when a number of railroads settled the shopcrafts strike on a basis worked out by Beet M. Jewell, head of the shopcrafts, and Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and to which commission was left the settlement of the seniority dispute is hopelessly deadlocked over the settlement, Chairman Ben W. Hooper of the United States railroad labor board told International News Service today.

Chairman Hooper is in receipt of an article from the pen of Edward Tegtmeyer, general vice president of the Bollemakers, one of the six shopcrafts, admitting the deadlock, rumors of which have been floating in railroad circles for several weeks.

Under the Baltimore plan on the basis of which a number of roads entered into separate settlements of the strike, the striking shopmen returned to work with the tacit agreement that while their seniority would rank second to the employees who did not strike or who entered the employ of the roads during the strike, the seniority dispute would be settled by a representative body composed of an equal number of employees and railroad executives. This body was to be known as the Baltimore agreement commission.

NEWS BRIEFS

Ku Klux Klan activities in Charleston, W. Va., were curtailed in an order by Mayor William Wertz refusing permission to Klan officials to parade through the streets of the city.

Governor J. A. O. Prens of Minnesota announced he wished to resign and be appointed successor of the late Knute Nelson in the United States senate. He will first ask the courts to determine legality of such procedure.

National Fire Protection association, in convention at Chicago, announced that the annual fire loss is 16,000 lives and $500,000,000 property damage.

GRAVES CAMPAIGN WILL COME TO END SATURDAY NIGHT

Graves of almost 32,100 Americans, who gave their lives during the World War and are buried in France, will be annually decorated on each succeeding Memorial Day, if the Graves Endowment Fund of $100,000 supported by the American Legion, is a success.

Each Legion Post in the country has been asked to assist in the effort to raise the $100,000 necessary to supply the annual tribute which the National Executive Committee has pledged. Two francs, fifty centimes will decorate one grave once a year. The income from a million francs will decorate about 15,000 graves once a year forever.

With the income from a million francs already being used and from private subscriptions, the Legion hopes to be able to decorate all graves annually. The campaign now being conducted will obviate the necessity of future campaigns, and insure the Legion's tribute to memory to each grave for all time.

There are 31,400 American soldiers buried in France and Belgium; England has 488; Scotland 140; Ireland 40, and Spain 1. The Legion has pledged itself to raise the amount necessary through all Posts before May 30, and the local campaign is a unit in the national drive to fulfill this pledge.

Boxes have been placed in banks and business houses by the committee of Joseph P. Foody Post, in charge of the campaign and contribution can be received there. Saturday afternoon and evening poppies will be sold by Girl Scouts in the afternoon and by Legionnaires in the evening. Poppies will be used Memorial Day and these poppies may be saved until that time.

Legion members are asked to cooperate with the committee by being present at Post Headquarters Saturday evening at seven o'clock.

HONOLULU POST OFFICE BOXES TOO HIGH FOR JAP CITIZENS

Honolulu, April 10.—Honolulu alhoorBA-M etaoia hrdi etaoi hrdi Japanese population has a new grievance. They don't like the magnificent new post office, probably the only "outdoor" post office in the world.

They don't like the building because they can't reach the boxes, which, they complain, are built too high for people of short stature. If a box above the first two tiers is given them they cannot reach their mail.

"Many Japanese have complained to me about the height of the boxes," said Postmaster MacAdam, who, although he didn't draw the plans for the building and isn't responsible for the inconvenient height of some of the boxes for short people, is the goat.

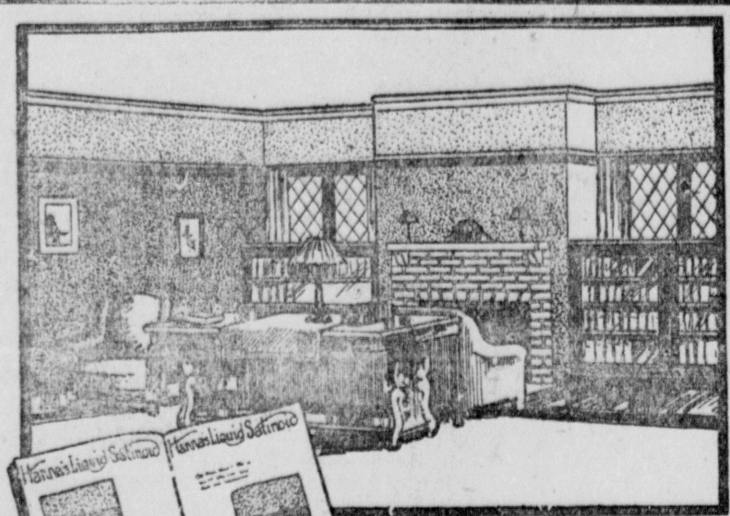

The new post office, opposite the Capitol, is a beautiful white building set back from the street. Most of the business with the public is transacted practically in the open, for the mail boxes and windows for stamps, parcel post, general delivery, etc., face on a wide-open portico. The columns and arches of the portico give the building an architectural finish of real beauty.

The wise ones are suggesting to the harassed postmaster that he lay in a supply of small folding ladders and rent them out at a small fee to short boxholders.

ASKS SHERIFF TO REMOVE AUTOMOBILE

Frank Edgingfield, Jamestown Pike, appealed to Sheriff Morris Sharp Friday to be relieved of a relic.

The relic is a Hudson touring car of ancient but honorable vintage, which a passing motorist wished on Edgingfield last October and which he has since been unable to get rid of. The motorist left it there when one of the tires blew out. December 6 he was back and said he would return in several days for the car. He never came back nor did he leave his name or address.

Edgingfield says the machine is in the way and he wants to get rid of it. Sheriff Sharp investigated in the belief the car might have been stolen originally. These doubts were dispelled by the ancient appearance of the car, which is a right hand drive.

TINKER SAYS HE COULD HARDLY DRESS HIMSELF

Rheumatism And Indigestion Robbed Him Of Strength, Declares Cleveland Citizen; Health Now Restored, He Praises Tanlac In Statement To Public.

"I'm all wrapped up in the subject of Tanlac now, for by means of this treatment my recovery has been simple and inexpensive," states Alfred Tinker, retired moulder, living at 2809 Cedar St., Cleveland, Ohio.

"My stomach was so disordered that everything I ate made me miserable with indigestion, heartburn, bloating and shortness of breath. Nervousness, biliousness, headaches and backaches were among my ailments, and I had rheumatism all through my body so bad I could hardly dress myself. My troubles were certainly treating me rough, and nights sleep was just almost impossible.

"Well, sir, the Tanlac treatment has knocked my troubles a-kiting and has put me in such splendid condition that, despite my seventy years I can throw out my chest and step just as lively as I could at forty. When my friends comment on my new health I tell them straight from the shoulder that Tanlac is what put me on my feet."

RECOGNITION BOON IS MEXICO'S HOPE.

When the "Big Four" of the western hemisphere get together in the near future to discuss ways and means amicably to settle the differences between the United States and Mexico, which have prevented the latter from being recognized as possessing a defacto or regularly constituted form of government it will be a contest of wits between advocates and supporters of conservatism and propagandists of a new order of things.

To Americans in general, the outcome of the conferences is not likely to be of much import. To Mexico, its Government and its people, whether or not the mixed commission finally arrives at an equitable solution of the various issues at stake, depends in a measure its economic equilibrium. If the conferences are successful, Mexico may look forward to a period of comparative prosperity and peace; if a deadlock issues, and the American State Department continues its policy of "watchful waiting," inaugurated during the Administration of President Wilson, Mexico will be obliged again to take up the unequal struggle to maintain its economic independence. For it must be understood that Mexico's prosperity depends chiefly on the influx of foreign capital to develop its untold riches.

Money alone is not sufficient, as history has proved that the Mexican people have never been able to exploit advantageously its potential resources—it has always been the foreigner who has blazed the way, and got the "fat." The Mexicans have been obliged to be satisfied with the drippings. Recognizing this, the promulgators of the constitution of 1917 took care to see that Mexico's resources should be safeguarded in the future and that the Nation should receive a just compensation for extending the privilege to foreigners to make highly profitable investments.

The adoption, of a constitution which lent an entirely new interpretation to property rights and interests acquired met with little opposition in the country except by the clerical and conservative groups. Foreigners naturally protested when their properties acquired legally and lawfully under the old laws were suddenly declared property of the Nation and subject to confiscation or division. Hope was held for a long time, nevertheless, that conditions would be bettered as soon as Congress enacted organic laws to regulate the several objectionable articles in the constitution.

Congress never did enact any laws but the pro and con of the several sections of the famous Article 27 have been discussed repeatedly by the lower and upper houses without further action being taken. President Alvaro Obregon and the Department of Commerce have, therefore, been obliged to issue various decrees from time to time to regulate the petroleum industry and to curb the activities of too ardent supporters of the agrarian reform law. These two issues, the oil question, sub-soil rights, taxation, export duties and the subdivision of lands are the two big questions before the mixed commission.

ADMIRAL CHESTER KEPT STANDARD OIL OUT OF CONCESSION.

Capital for developing the so-called Chester concession in Turkey will be raised by popular subscription in the United States, and the first call will be for $1,000,000 to complete the surveys of oil and mineral resources obtained in the grant. This was announced by Rear Admiral Colby M. Chester, United States Navy, retired, in an address before the National Press Club, in which he gave the "inside story" of the contest his group waged to obtain the mammoth concession from the Turkish Government.

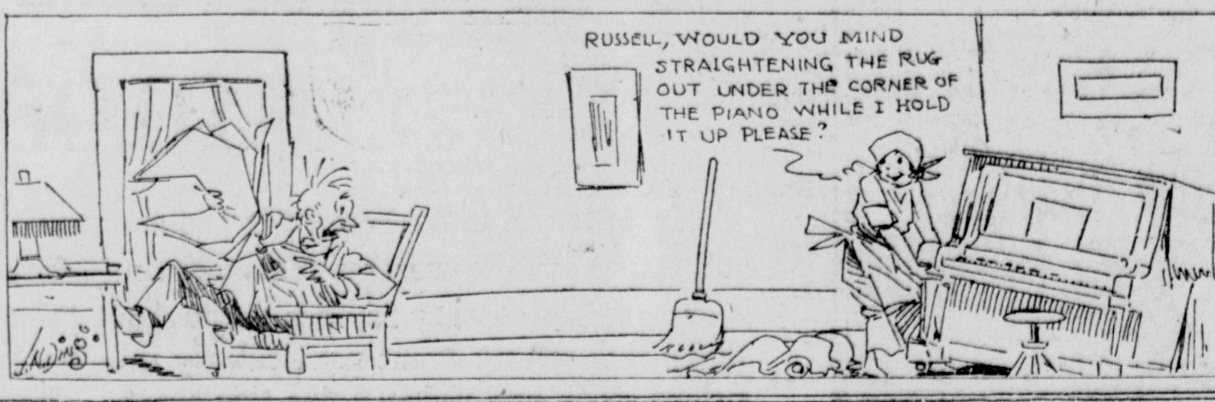

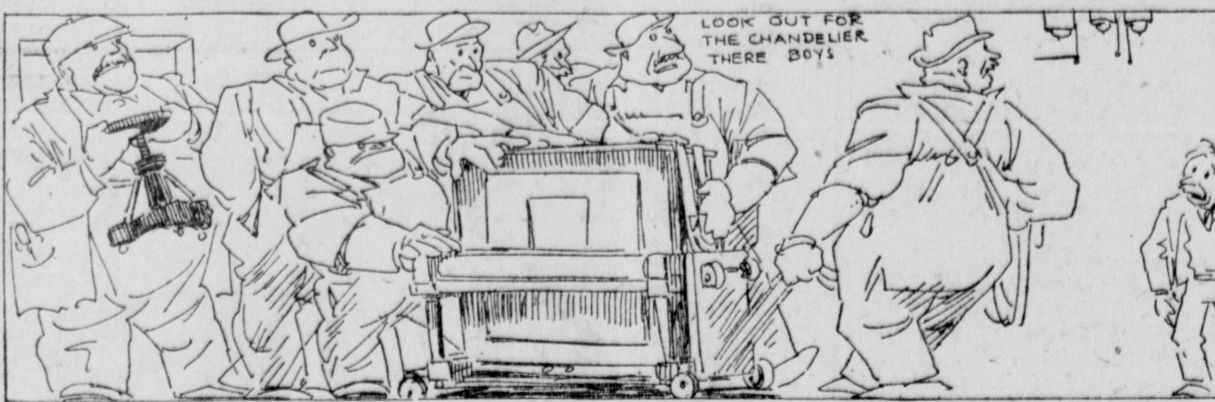

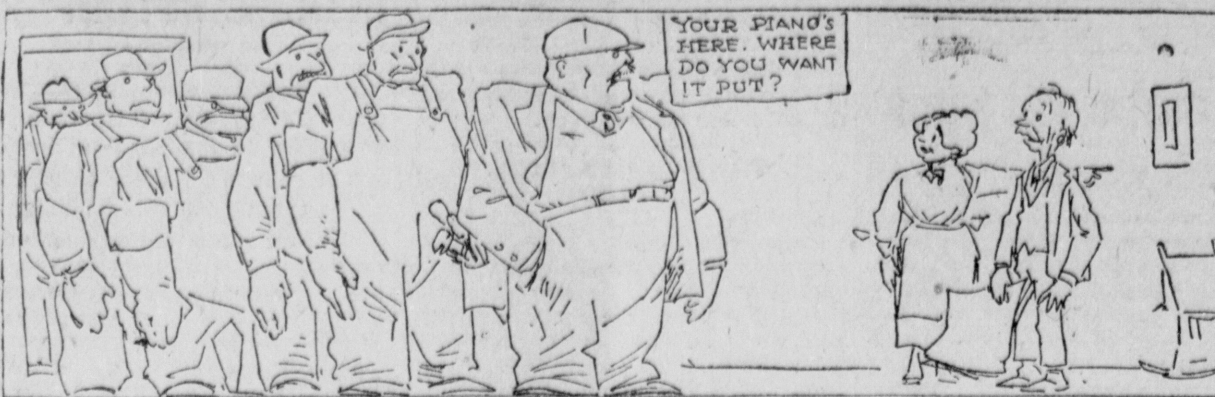

Admiral Chester said that his group had already expended $500,000 to make surveys and they were convinced they have the greatest concessions ever granted to a single group of trade developers. Numerous appeals were made to his group by the Standard Oil interests and other American oil companies to allow them to participate in the development of the concession, but they were rejected, according to Admiral Chester. He said:

Three years ago the Standard Oil came to me and asked that they be allowed to participate in the development of the concession, when we received it. I told them that my greatest difficulty was to keep the name of Rockefeller out of Turkey. Agents of the Standard Oil went to the Turkish Government and declared they were not behind the Chester group, but they were politely told that the Turkish Government was behind them.

Admiral Chester reviewed how he began working for the concession back in 1908. He said President Roosevelt urged him to go after the concession, because it was apparent then as well as at present that in a few years the American oil supplies would be exhausted, and the United States Navy would be hard pressed to obtain fuel, not to mention American industries. Continuing Admiral Chester said:

It will be only a few years when we will get no more oil from Mexico, and then the question would have been, tie up the navy for want of oil, or stop the automobiles—perhaps both of them. In the concession received from the Turkish Government, we have, we believe, the greatest oil wells in the world and in addition many by-products.

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

CLEARING THE COMPLEXION

We read so much about ways of clearing the complexion. Diet, exercise, special foods, special creams—they are all very good, anyone with a bad skin had best use all these methods as all are beneficial.

But one simple way is little talked about. A daily hot bath will do wonders in clearing a muddy skin, a blotchy skin, or one full of ugly large pores and blackheads.

The body, as we all know, is continually throwing off waste matter in one form or another. I forget how much goes off daily through the pores—a surprising amount anyway. One can perspire off pounds in a few hours, as any fat lady in a Turkish bath, or overweight horse jockey can tell you.

This waste, then, dries on the skin, some of it evaporates, much is absorbed by the clothing. Naturally, if there is too much, it will clog up the minute pores and prevent them from the body.

H. W. S.—Try a good hair tonic and massage the scalp every day until you feel the whole head glow from increased circulation.

D. L. G.—A bad breath may come from other causes besides the teeth. A catarrhal tendency or a poor digestion will also cause this unpleasantness.

Rae.—At 18 years of age these stray grey hairs merely show they exist. A condition that should be improved. Probably your scalp is in need of a stimulating treatment through a good tonic and a daily massage. If these hairs are dead they will then drop out, or they will return to the original color as the scalp becomes invigorated.

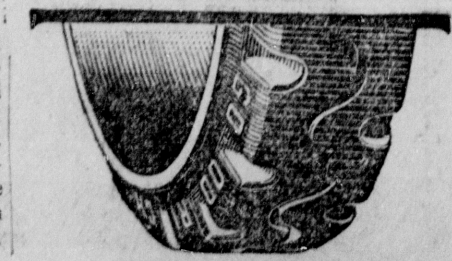

WOMAN THINKS SHE CAN'T TALK ENOUGH

"I had gall stones for 14 years and suffered severely from gas, colic and indigestion. Doctors wanted me to go to the hospital, but I took Mav's Wonderful Remedy instead, and am now feeling fine and better than I ever did. I can't talk enough about this remedy." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sayre & Hemphill and druggists everywhere.

THE STUMBLER

The world's sympathy drips for him who is frail.

I have always been drawn to that story of the lost sheep—the one out of the hundred. And there is nothing more dramatic and more poignant in its appeal to my heart interest, than that story of the Prodigal Son.

I can see God walking around in the big cities, keeping His eyes on those who are prone to stumble, those who often lose their footing, who need a helping hand, a pat on the back, and a little love poured into their faint hearts.

That's my idea of why there is a God—because He is needed!

One reason why I feel drawn toward the stumbler is that I so often stumble myself. I know how he feels.

Perfect folks have never appealed to me. Because they have nothing in common with me. But he who has often lost what he has worked so hard to win—and then put his head and heart to its finding again—I want him for a friend!

So long as the world is spread with folks, just so long will the sweetness of the character of Christ perfume the lives of us all.

What a scene of beauty—that woman, a stumbler of the streets, she might be called, who stole into the house of Simon the Pharisee and sought Jesus that she might break the box of precious ointment cross His feet, transformed by His Infinite Love. The entire room must have been silenced. A stumbler loved and blessed by one who understood.

Who does not stumble? And who is he who may not rise if he will?

EIGHT GRADUATES OF SPRING VALLEY RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

Members of the last graduating class of Spring Valley Township high school, as a second-grade school received their diplomas at the closing exercises, at that place, Thursday evening.

The commencement program included an announcement by County Superintendent of Schools H. C. Adams that Spring Valley, beginning next September, would be a first-grade high school, and that all graduates of the present class, together with those of previous years, are expected to enroll next fall for the fourth year of high school work. The announcement means that Spring Valley will be the last of the second-grade high schools in the county to be abandoned, and that the future graduates will receive their final year of study, in the new high school building, to be erected within the next few months. The action is taken in accordance with the law that guarantees first-grade high school training for all who desire it. During previous years, when Spring Valley was ranked as a second-grade school, touring year pupils have been forced to come to the Xenia high school to receive their final year's course. The new Spring Valley high school is expected to be completed by next December, work to start on the building, with the allowing of the bids, within the next few days.

Eight graduates received their diplomas at the exercises Thursday night. The commencement address was delivered by Professor A. A. Maysville, of Dayton, Superintendent of the Montgomery County Schools. In his address Thursday night, he made a plea for more brotherly cooperation between the school boards, patrons and teachers, emphasizing the waste of time and money when this is not obtained.

He said that the ability of school teachers and officials, when applied to some other kind of work, brought from two to ten times as much in financial dividends, as the salary they were receiving. He stressed the need of strict observance of law, whether popular or not, since the result of disobeying one law, was that the younger generation held in disregard, all laws.

The commencement program opened with music by the Spring Valley orchestra, followed by the invocation by the Rev. Mr. Wally, of Spring Valley. The class history was told by Miss Margaret Sollers. The class address was given by Miss Marie Squires, the class prophecy, by Miss Winifred Penewit, and the Valedictorian address, by Miss Margaret Mitchener. Selections by the orchestra interspersed the program. District School Superintendent D. H. Barnes delivered a short talk.

County Superintendent of Schools Aultman presented diplomas to the following graduates: Sadie Moore, Miriam Smith, Oran Newton Turner, Marie Squires, Winifred Penewit, Charles Barley, Margaret Sollers, and Margaret Mitchener.

FONSECA IS MORAN'S PROBLEM

The injury to Babe Pinelli's wrist, which forced him out of the Red line up in the game with Boston Thursday, and resulted in Louie Fonseca getting the call to second base while Sammy Bohne was shifted to the difficult corner, increases the problem of what to do with the versatile vaudevillian, Fonseca.

Everybody will admit that Louie is too valuable a pastime to be decorating anybody's baseball dugout when there is work to be done, but "what to do with Louie" is a problem play for the puzzle workers. Hitting like a house afire, the warbler is making himself hard to get along with but the Red infield is cluttered up with a variety of stars.

Fonseca is the most valuable utility man in either big league. He can field any infield position in a pinch and do it well. He does not perform like a substitute when called into the fray, and despite long periods on the bench never seems to lose his batting eye. If Bohne, Pinelli or Caveney were hitting like they did last year it would be a simple matter to insert Louie into the pastime to bolster the club attack. But all three of these pastimers have come through with the stick while Bohne and Pinelli are considered among the classiest athletes in fielding their positions in either league. This leaves Caveney, who sometimes makes fielding slips, as evidenced by his three breaks Thursday, but this baby is clouting the old apple this year at a .342 clip and his triple Thursday won the game.

Jake Daubert, the veteran, has been handicapped by his early lay-off and has not been hitting with regularity. But there is every assurance that once the doorkeeper gets his eye, he will hit with the best of them. Furthermore, Jake has no peers at the first-basing job. When Fonseca stepped into the lineup cold at Boston Thursday he banged out three hits in four trips, an extremely hard feat. And yet with a batting average of .435 he is forced to occupy the bench until one of the regulars is forced out of the going.

Purify your Blood this Spring with S.S.S.

Of course you will purify your blood, you realize the importance of it. Many people, however, overlook the fact that winter, with its heavy meat diets, has left their blood thick and sluggish. That listless, tired feeling creeps over them. They feel that something is wrong—yet, they can not say just what! But isn't it easy to throw off the ills of winter! Take, for instance, S. S. S., the world's best blood medicine for five generations. S. S. S. purifies the blood. It makes it clean and rich. S. S. S. stops rheumatism and skin eruptions; pimples, blackheads, acne, boils, eczema! It builds up run-down, tired men and women, beautifies complexions, and makes the flesh firmer! S. S. S. will give you greater endurance, energy and strength!

Mr. D. G. Cantrell, 1202 East 4th St., Alton, Ill., writes: "For five years I was troubled with pimples and blackheads on my face and back. After taking S.S.S. for only a short while all my pimples started to leave. I feel 100% better and can eat more than ever. S.S.S. is a grand medicine."

Try it yourself. S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores. The large size is more economical. Get a bottle today!

S.S.S. makes you feel like yourself again

We again long to see the world through the eyes of youth. This is of course forbidden us. But if your eyes have aged until they can not focus properly upon your vision's point of view we can examine them and make for you glasses that will correct the defects and let you see perfectly. We are skilled in this work.

HIS DEATH STIRS ENTIRE NATION

The death of Martin Tabert, a Munich (North Dakota) youth, in a Florida lumber camp has stirred the entire nation. Tabert was arrested for stealing a ride on a train and sentenced to six months imprisonment. His parents sent the money to pay his fine, but it was returned, and the boy leased to a lumber company;

then he became ill. He could not work as fast as the other prisoners, and he was lashed. Convicts say he died of the whipping, and Whipping Boss Higginbotham has been indicted for his murder. The Legislature of North Dakota took up the case, with the result that Florida will probably abolish flogging and the leasing of prisoners to corporations.

FIGURES IN TRIANGLE OF HEARTS

Mrs. James Nuttall, Mrs. James Morris & Alice. N.Y.

For eleven years little Alice thought Mrs. James Nuttall, of Chicago, was her real mother, and she loved her as such. Then after a long search, the child's real mother, Mrs. James Morris, who had had to give up the care of the girl in infancy to a foundling asylum, from which Mrs. Nuttall took her, found her. A Chicago judge has been called upon to render a "judgment of Solomon" and give the child either to the real mother of the foster-mother, both of whom love her dearly.

MYSTERY DEEPENS IN DEATH OF YOUTH

Where body was found.

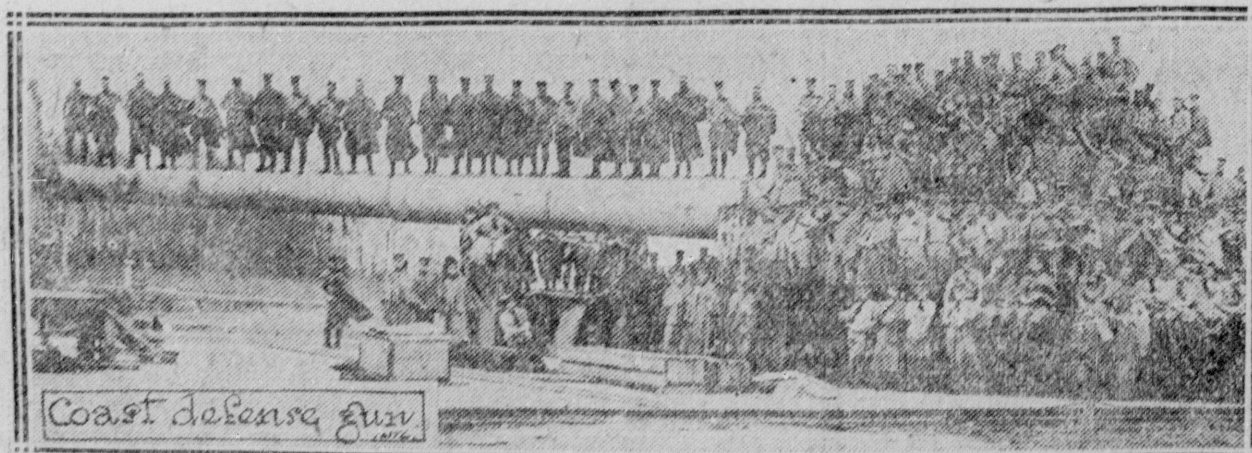

Goodwin Home.

When his parents separated when he was a child Fred Carter was taken to the Kent (Connecticut) home of Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Goodwin. The Goodwins had, long before that time, adopted Jennie Barker, now a 32-year-old school teacher. The Goodwins died a few years ago, and Carter continued to live with Miss Barker who wielded a strange influence over him, in the Goodwin home a few weeks ago Carter now 19, disappeared. Bloodstains were found near his home and later a shotgun was found in the Housatonic River. A few days ago Carter's chum, Henry Gregory shown above in a skiff found his body in the river. He had been shot to death, but although shot marks were found on his shirt, none was found on his outer clothing. Although some were inclined to the suicide theory no motive could be found, nor could the absence of shotmarks on his outer clothing be explained. Carter is shown here, with his graduation class in the Kent High school.

DR. A. D. D'HAVEN RESIGNS AS MEMBER OF CITY COMMISSION TO ACCEPT JOB AS HEALTH COMMISSIONER OF XENIA

The resignation of Dr. A. D. DeHaven, as city commissioner, his immediate appointment by City Manager S. O. Hale as city health commissioner and the election of Dr. C. G. McPherson to the vacancy on the board of commissioners marked an unexpected turn in the routine of City Commission meeting Thursday night.

Dr. DeHaven resigned to accept the position of health commissioner as a solution to the problem of applying a successor to Dr. Grube, whose resignation handed in last September took effect the first of last January and who has served since in a temporary capacity as acting head of the health department.

Members of the commission, although not anticipating the resignation of Dr. DeHaven, accepted the arrangement immediately as a final solution to the knotty health problem that has been nagging at their heels since last summer and immediately halted on his successor. Dr. McPherson was nominated by Commissioner George E. Hudson and was elected on the first ballot over George M. Stiles, who was nominated by Commissioner Harry Fisher. The vote was three to one, Commissioner Fisher voting for his candidate in the race and Dr. DeHaven not voting.

The sudden change in the personnel of the commission came late in the meeting. President H. L. Smith asked City Manager Hale concerning the situation in the health department. The manager replied that the position of health commissioner had been offered to several physicians, who had refused.

"I'll tell you what I'll do," spoke up Dr. DeHaven. "If you will appoint me health commissioner, I'll resign from the commission to take the job."

Members of the board looked at each other a moment. Judge Smith spoke first. "I don't know whether you men know anything about poker or not, but I'll call that," he said.

City Solicitor J. A. Finney wrote out the resignation which Dr. DeHaven signed to take effect immediately. The resignation was read to the board by City Auditor T. H. Zell.

Commissioner Hudson moved that the resignation be accepted, with an expression of regret from the commission at Dr. DeHaven's departure and of appreciation of his interest and willingness to take up the health department work. The motion passed unanimously and Dr. DeHaven moved from the table around which the commissioners were seated to the spectator's section of the commission chamber.

The resignation of Dr. DeHaven removed the next to the last charter member of the commission from the board, Commissioner Fisher being the only other original member elected. Dr. DeHaven was elected to serve on the first commission, which took office January 1, 1918, for two years. He later was re-elected for a four year term, which would have expired at the end of this year. He did not intend to be a candidate for re-election.

The retiring commissioner has been vice-president of the board since he qualified as a member of the first commission and for the last two months has been Mayor, a nominal position under the Commission Manager form of government, not having executive, judicial or administrative powers of that office as under the federal style of government. In the latter position he was elected to succeed the late Mayor M. J. Hartley, whose death occurred three months ago. He has been interested in the success of the commission manager form of government and took part in all the councils that marked the experimental stages of this government style.

The health tangle, settled by the acceptance of the health commissioner by Dr. DeHaven, developed last summer during the typhoid fever epidemic. Dr. DeHaven, who served as health officer for the city under the former health law a number of years ago, has had several years experience in the work. He will spend several days familiarizing himself with the office now before actually assuming his duties.

Dr. C. G. McPherson will be seated as a member of the commission at the next meeting, at which time the commission is expected to elect a Mayor and a vice-president to fill those offices made vacant by the resignation of Commissioner DeHaven.

The new commissioner is a well-known member of the Xenia medical fraternity and of the Greene County Medical Society. During the war he served as a First Lieutenant in the U. S. Medical Corps, and has been active in American Legion work. At present he is Commander of Joseph P. Foody Post, No. 35, American Legion but he has never sought or held a public office. His election in place of Dr. DeHaven is expected to supply the commission with counsel in the matter of health problems that confront the city legislative body.

Dr. DeHaven's resignation read as follows: "To the Hon. Board of City Commissioners—

"I hereby tender my resignation as City Commissioner of the City of Xenia, Ohio, and request that the same be accepted to take effect immediately.

"Dated at Xenia, Ohio, this May 10, 1923.

(Signed) A. D. DeHaven.

WHO WILL BE NEXT SHEIK OF XENIA IS QUESTION BEFORE BODY

The resignation of Dr. A. D. DeHaven, Mayor and vice-president of the City Commission as a member of that body to accept the position of health commissioner Thursday night, left four vacancies to fill.

The first was filled immediately when Dr. C. G. McPherson was elected commissioner to succeed Dr. DeHaven for the rest of the current year.

"Three more positions held by Dr. DeHaven will have to be filled at the next meeting," said City Manager S. O. Hale after the mayor had left his seat at the commission table. "The commission will have to elect a new mayor, a vice-president of the commission and a 'sheik'."

Dr. DeHaven won the latter appellation in a local barbershop several weeks ago, when a barbershop philosopher opined that as a sheik is the mayor of a tribe, therefore Dr. DeHaven was the sheik of Xenia.

The name stuck, and the retiring mayor good-naturedly answered to the title "sheik" at commission meetings. As the title goes with that of Mayor, the commissioner elected to that position will also draw down the Arabian distinction.

"Extra Nice Hard Sauce for Puddings: Cream one-quarter of a pound of butter. Sift one cup of confectioner's sugar and add it gradually to the butter. Beat well, then add four tablespoons of boiling water (one at a time, beating between each spoonful). Now beat the mixture for about 40 minutes, then fold in the stiffly whipped white of one egg. Put this into the dish in which you intend to serve it, as it does not look as well if disturbed after it stiffens. This sauce is good as long as it lasts. In warm weather I put it in my ice-chest between the adding of each of the tablespoons of boiling water. Use a silver fork for beating."—Reader.

"My Sponge Cake: Beat together thoroughly one cup of sugar and the yolks of three eggs. Then add four tablespoons of cold water and one cup of flour which has been mixed and sifted with one teaspoon of baking powder. Flavor with one teaspoon of vanilla extract and, last, fold in the whites of the three eggs stiffly whipped. After folding them in do not stir any more. Turn into a pan and bake in a moderate oven for about 20 minutes."—Mrs. E. W. A.

"Caramel Tapioca: Cook together till clear one-half cup of minute tapioca, a pinch of salt and three cups of hot water. Add one and one-half cups of brown sugar and one cup of nutmeats finely chopped. Cook five minutes, then turn into cups to stand until firm and cold. Serve with whipped cream. Peaches or pineapple may be added to this tapioca. If desired, and a custard sauce served with it in place of whipped cream."—Subscriber.

"Old-Fashioned Indian Pudding: Into one quart of boiling milk stir slowly, seven tablespoons of cornmeal then remove from stove and add one beaten egg, one-half teaspoon of ground ginger, two-thirds of a cup of molasses and a pinch of salt. Bake one hour in a moderate oven."—Mrs. C. B. C.

"Crumb Pie: Cook together for five minutes one cup of bread crumbs, one cup of sugar, one-half cup shredded coconut and two egg-yolks. Flavor with one cup of orange juice, cool and turn into a lower crust which you have previously baked. Use the two egg-whites as a meringue."—A Mother.

TAXICAB ORDINANCE PASSED THURSDAY PROVIDES CHANGE

Xenia's new taxicab ordinance, fixing annual license fees and other regulatory laws to govern operation of taxicabs, was passed by the City Commission at Thursday night's meeting after being discussed in successive meetings for some time.

The ordinance provides that operators with a rate schedule drawn up and approved by local taxicab operators and presented to the commission Thursday night by Dan Donovan, operator of the Yellow Cabs.

The ordinance provides that operators must obtain an annual license at the rate of $10 for vehicles with a carrying capacity not exceeding six; $18 annually for vehicles with a carrying capacity not exceeding 12 and $25 annually for vehicles with a passenger capacity of more than 12 passengers.

Rates provided in the ordinance, include a 25-cent fare for one passenger within the city limits for the first three-fourths mile and a 50-cent extra charge for each trunk. Taxi fare to the Green County Fairgrounds was fixed at not to exceed 15-cents, with an addition 50 cents for each trunk.

The ordinance provides that taxi operators must apply for licenses in writing, and that the driver must be a citizen of the United States, be able to read, write and speak English, be at least 21 years of age, and must have been a resident of Ohio 12 months and have three months experience in the operation of motor vehicles.

The ordinance further provides that violators of any section or clause may be charged with a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine not to exceed $100 and costs.

ANN HAS STILL MORE TO BEAR Chapter LXXXII

On the third morning after Ann had taken up her residence with Doctor Grayson, Bessie reported that Dick and Grace had left for San Bernardino. Dick had been sulky, annoyed that she and Ned thought it their duty to spend the night at his ranch; had told them it was unnecessary.

"I told him that I wasn't going to let Grace risk losing her reputation, and he looked dazed. He asked: 'You mean you think I can't be trusted?' I told him he might be perfectly trustworthy, but no one would believe it with you gone because of Grace and her insistence upon remaining in your absence. I really don't think the blundering creature had realized quite how it looked. He is so peevish, so anxious to show Grace he is boss, that he hasn't had room for any other feeling. But Grace is as saucy, as apparently gay as ever."

"Are they going to find a maid?" Ann asked.

"They didn't say so. Dick said he needed some things for the house, and Grace wants some new records. When we got there last night she complained of being tired of all you had."

The China boy drove Ann over so she might get some more clean clothes for Jack and herself. She had no objections to entering the house if Grace was not there, but she was shocked at the untidy place in spite of an evident attempt to clean up a little before they left. She walked through the rooms she had arranged with such pride and wondered if she would ever feel the same again. She touched nothing although it was all she could do not to stay and clean. She found the clothing she came for, and left at once, careful to disturb nothing that would show she had been there.

Would Dick drink? Grace was no influence for good. Her being with him would not deter him. Probably she would drink with him, think it shorting. All day Ann worried. Dick was so irresponsible when he drank. And he was angry, probably in a way ashamed because of Bessie, the stand she had taken. He would be sure to do something foolish.

It was about 5 o'clock. Nora was in the kitchen, Ann on the porch with some mending for the doctor, who had not yet come in from his calls. Little Jack was playing some distance from the house, but in the yard fronting the roadway. She could see him from where she sat, and occasionally called to him. Suddenly she saw a car drive swiftly up, a woman jump out, grasp Jack up, and while she sat almost paralyzed for a moment, jump into the car and drive swiftly away.

Ann screamed and ran after them, but all she could see was a cloud of dust. If only the doctor would come! That it was Grace who had taken Jack she had no doubt. Was Dick not had time to see. Hearing her scream, Nora had run out, followed by the China boy, but they, like Ann, were helpless. The car was out of sight.

Ann hurried to the telephone and called Bessie.

"I'll come right over. Don't worry more than you can help. Ann. She won't hurt Jackie. It is just a ruse to bring you to terms. She has probably taken him home."

But Bessie's assurance scarcely brought Ann any comfort. She walked back and forth frantically, longing for Doctor Grayson to come. Oh, why had she left her home? For the first time doubt of her action assailed her. She would endure a dozen Graces rather than have her boy taken from her.

A motor drove up. It was not the doctor, but Hugh Norton. To him Ann told the whole miserable story—how Dick had overheard him that day, had seen him kiss her hand, of his furious accusations, and his plan "to get even" by installing Grace in their home for a visit in spite of Ann's refusal to receive her.

"So it is all my fault," Hugh said sadly, "and I would do anything to save you pain, Ann."

"No, Hugh, a crisis was bound to come soon anyway. I had reached the point where that girl drove me almost insane. She was taking Dick from me, was ruining our lives together. But I can't stay away when Jack is there—I can't!" Then wildly she added: "He may not be there. She make take him where we can't find him."

"We will find him, Ann. Let Nora come with me—it would be foolish for you to do so. Might make it harder to get hold of Jackie."

Nora appeared at Ann's call, wiping her eyes on her apron. "Go with Mr. Norton, Nora; and do just as he tells you." "I'll do anything to find my lamb," she sobbed as she climbed in beside Hugh.

They had been gone but a little while when Bessie drove up. "Jump in, Ann, we'll do some scouting, too," she said. Then as they drove along she talked to Ann until she stopped sobbing, assuring her that no harm would come to Jack, that he liked Grace and wouldn't fret. Tomorrow—Dick at Last Capitulates

"Ka-di-ok is the Finest Blood Medicine and System Tonic I Have Ever Heard of," Says Columbus Man.

Mr. Emil Longhenry, who lives at 726 Reinhard Avenue, Columbus, says: "I was all run down and felt tired all the time; was also very nervous and was always constipated. As a rule, after supper I would fall asleep in my chair, as it seemed impossible for me to keep awake. My face and hands were in a miserable condition with eczema; my skin would get red and inflamed and crack open. It looked so bad at times that I felt almost ashamed to be seen by my friends. I tried everything to overcome it in the way of ointments and lotions but could not cure it. Since taking Ka-di-ok my skin has all cleaned up and has become smooth and soft. Not only that, I am feeling fine in every way. I don't fall asleep in any more chairs, but I eat hearty and am strong and fit and when it is time to go to bed I am ready for sleep, but not before. I want to say in conclusion that my bowels move freely and my blood is in fine condition. Ka-di-ok is the finest blood medicine and system tonic I have ever heard of in my life."

Ka-di-ok can be obtained at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store, Xenia.
